Shalom laYehudim, Shalom laBnai Noach, Shalom laGoyim. It's the evening of the 4th day, yud-dales beTammuz, tav-shin-ayin-heb, Parashas Balak, the evening of the 3rd day, Tuesday, 30 June 2015, webcasting from the last, legitimate country on earth where Jew-killing is legal.

For example, yesterday morning at the Tomb of Rachel on the approach to Bethlehem that is associated with the Jewish idea of a messiah, a homicidal Hamite, a wild ass of a female jackass plunged a knife into a Semitic policewoman's neck.

Maybe you've noticed the repeating acts of this nature; how the Arabs love to ambush, attack from the rear with no with warning, in a civilian setting, not on a battlefield, to plunge a dagger into a victim's neck. That is what happened yesterday, grievously wounding the 20-year Israeli girl who was snatched from the jaws of death by the speedy arrival of Magen David medics. They found her conscious but in great pain. They stanching the bleeding, applied bandages, inserted an IV and raced off with her in their ambulance to the hospital.

The Arabian she-devil, also 20 years old, who wielded the dagger, ironically bears the last name Musa, the Arabic mangling of Moshe, whom these thieves with all their hearts believe was a Muslim, as the Arabs also teach that Jesus was a Balestinian, really the first Balestinian martyr slain by the evil Jews.

Jesus was a Balestinian, they say, and the world community, led by the morons of the Jewish Left, think it is possible for Israel to enter into a cooperative, mutually respectful, friendly relationship with these people by retreating back to the 1949 ceasefire lines and handing these hills over to this young woman's associates.

The Jewish idea in the brain can mess up one's vision. These homicidal Arab maniacs see agents of the devil in us. And it also messes up the minds of Jewish anti-Jews like Rabin, Peres, Beilin and the like, the Oslo cultists.

It is as if they are blind in one eye. They see another people, the Arab people here, as fellow nationalists just like their own Zionist grandparents, who want a little state just like them.

While the other eye in such people is blind, the one that senses or investigates the religious life of other people. Because Rabin, Peres, Beilin & Co. were dead to the Jewish religion, they are blind to the satanic fires of hatred that burn in the Arab-Muslim breast.

That Arab murderess wielding that dagger who was grabbed after a brief chase told her captors, "I wanted to kill a Jew!"

Not an Israeli. A Jew.

So that was at Bethlehem's Tomb of Rachel south of Jerusalem yesterday morning about 11 a.m. Then about 12 hours later north of the Holy City in the tribal land of Benjamin who was Mother Rachel's second son, four more Israelites also in their 20s, male athletes coming home late at night from a game, were cruising along near the settlement of Shvut Rachel/the return of Rachel, and they were fired upon from another vehicle. All four were hit in the upper body. Three remain in hospital this evening with their wounds. The fourth, Malachi Moshe Rosenfeld, expired of his wounds today.

Thus was like the sixth attempted murder strike by these savages in the last 10 days of Ramadan, which our experts tell us today is a good time for murdering non-Muslims, ergo last Friday's festival of death in Tunisia, France and Kuwait. Ramadan is a good time for murdering non-believers.

Ramadan in history, Muslims say, has been associated with great victories of Islam over the infidels, who like the Left in the West are totalitarian in their intolerance of those who do not think like them. The expression "politically incorrect," let us remember, came out crusading Communism. In the Soviet Union, generations of schoolchildren were taught that their system was "scientific socialism, like math is scientific, and those who were not communists were politically incorrect, wrong. Like saying two and two is five. Their political views are incorrect, hence, when the Communists conquered South Viet Nam, those who opposed their system were sent to re-education camps to be taught correct political thinking.

Ramadan, our experts said today, is associated with famous victories and is a special time, a holy time for murdering enemies.

And I ask, what other religion glorifies, on a holy day or a holy week, or holy month, going out and murdering people at random not for anything they personally have done but the thoughts in their minds? It is, I believe, Islamic doctrine that everyone in the world really knows, deep down, that Islam is the correct religion -- as an Egyptian doctor once preached to me -- and so it is only their stubbornness that accounts for infidels not admitting the truth that they know somewhere in their beings.

The Jews, for example, had to pay the jezaya tax for fourteen centuries to Muslim rulers for the right to stubbornly continue to practice their religion and not convert to Islam. The jezaya was punishment for their stubbornness.

And that very same behavior you can find on the Internet these days, only it is the Christians in Syria and Iraq who must pay their ISIS conquerors for the right to remain Christians.

In fact, just yesterday, JPost hard copy on the front page reported on flyers in Arabic distributed in the Arab areas of Jerusalem by those who identify with ISIS threatening the Christians among them with being butchered if they do not flee the city before the end of Ramadan.

Speaking of the Communists in the Far East, a week ago, Israel National News reported that in China, the government has there -- fasten your seatbelts -- banned Ramadan.

For some years now, the Islamic revival has stirred up the Uighur people in China's far west. I think like a fifth of China is their homeland, these Turkic people. Just like the Soviet Union that was officially atheist, and the school kids were taught atheism, so the Communist Chinese do not look favorably on religion. For them, Tibetan Buddhism must be eradicated and Islam no less. And I confess that in the case of Islam, their prohibition on observing Ramadan makes me jealous. If only Israel could do that here; ban Islam.

Memri.org posted a TV clip of an Egyptian cleric at Al-Azhar the other day, the pinnacle of Islamic scholarship, one Muhammad Zaki, preaching that Ramadan is the month of jihad, not of sleep. He also said, "The Muslims have never started a war. They have never initiated an attack against peaceful people. They are always the ones who are attacked. Can fending off aggression be considered terrorism? The others are always the ones who initiate the fighting."

This is why HAMAS is an acronym for Islamic Resistance Movement, and in fact Hezbollah likewise defines itself as resisting Israeli aggression; the very existence of Israel is an act of aggression. The PLO terror cults as well called their fighters "the resistance."

This is why I insist that the Arabs are not Semites but Hamites, descended from Ham, Noah's problem child, who seems to have been infected with hamas, the Hebrew word in the Bible, the unbridled violence characteristic of mankind before the Flood, which was the reason for the flood.

The word hamas appears in the text a mere few words away from the name of Ham, and I say it is no coincidence that for Jews the word hamas is the worst sin man commits --conscienceless, guiltless aggression against others. But for the Arabs it is the highest virtue, the passion, from the word ham meaning “hot,” as in hot-headed and hot-blooded, that ignites in Muslims a fire to kill, to murder, to want to, as that Hamitic female yesterday at Mother Rachel’s tomb, said, “I want to kill a Jew” and sometimes even die in the process as a shahid, a martyr, which makes the slaughter of the infidel even sweeter.

And I ask again, what other religion celebrates a holy time with massacres?

The foregoing was inspired by the commentary of the great 19th century German Rabbi Shimshon (Samson) Raphael Hirsch. I encourage all to read what he had to say about Ham and later Ishmael and his mother.

His commentary was published in 1867, but like all classics, it is timeless, like the Torah miSinai that he was commenting on is timeless.

Well, the good news since the last webcast on Sunday was the ludicrous denouement of that flotilla of antisemites deluding themselves that they care about the Ancient Ones when it is not compassion that moves them but Jew-hatred.

This time the 50 haters aboard bore no weapons and offered no resistance. And the boats following the main one turned tailed and sailed back where they came upon the IDF boarding the main boat some 80 miles from our coast and brought it to shore in Ashdod peacefully.

This latest attempt at Jew-baiting flopped big time because the world’s attention has been focused since last Friday on the virtually simultaneous religious massacres in Tunisia and Kuwait and possibly France. The media reported the flight of 20,000 British tourists from that country on holiday, and one supposes thousands more German tourists as well. I think those two peoples are the country’s principle tourists.

I watched on Skye TV the minute of silence in the House of Commons in London, all the MPs standing in silence, and then the speech by Prime Minister David Cameron. He seems to be a decent fellow but I am afraid that either he still doesn’t get it, or because gets it he is afraid to speak the truth for where that could lead to.

The truth is not as he insisted. You know, almost like Barack Obama, he sees these massacre freaks as some kind of aberration not representative of Islam. On the BBC’s morning show, he said, “I wish the BBC would stop calling it Islamic State because it is not an Islamic state. What it is, is an appalling, barbarous regime. It is a perversion of the religion of Islam and many Muslims listening to this program will recoil every time they hear the words Islamic State.” He said he preferred the name ISIL, meaning “Islamic State of Iraq and Syria” which is a better term.

Oh dear, dear me. This is twice nonsense. First of all, ISIS is not a perversion. Surely he knows, MI5 must report to him, on the violent sermons in the mosques in the UK, and MI6 might refer him to that video of a preacher at Al-Azhar blessing massacres in Ramadan. Al-Azhar is the Oxbridge of the Islamic world. Cameron would benefit from imagining some C of E cleric living in either Oxford or Cambridge calling for another crusade in the footsteps of King Richard Lion-Heart to vanquish the Saracen barbarians. How would that go over?

Secondly, changing from ISIS to ISIL -- though I don't think he mentioned that this is Obama's preferred name -- is not going to change anything in the slightest. Islam is represented by these murderers. It is not an aberration what they do. Just watch Muhammad Zaki on that Memri.org video.

Watch the Islamic provocateur in London, Anjem Chaudhary, born in the UK of Pakistani stock who lived a secular life until past university, I think, before flipping out one day and becoming an ardent Muslim, an aggressive, threatening barbarian working toward the day England converts. This character has been a frequent guest on Hannity on FOX TV.

As to the actual steps the West must take to combat today's Islamic savagery, I think the first step is intellectual. Cameron is suggesting something like that, only one must re-think Islam and rid oneself of the politically correct, very nice actually, notion that all religions are of equal worth and must be respected.

For sure, Western societies, dominated by Christianity, can tolerate and accommodate Judaism, Buddhism, India's Hinduism, India's Jainism, Japanese Shinto, Native American religions, etc.

But not Islam. I say sooner rather than later the West has to face the truth that Islam is very different and must be outlawed, and it could be because it is polygamous. As Al Capone was convicted in court not for his murder and illegal bootlegging but tax evasion, so Islam should be outlawed for its polygamy as the Mormons once were outlawed.

I realize that by outlawing Islam, a liberal democracy could find itself in the same class with the Commies in China who outlaw Ramadan, the number one religious holiday in Islam, but I am afraid that can't be helped.

Perhaps Israel can lead the way by shutting down the PA TV station that was given to them by St. Simon of Oslo, which for more than 20 years now broadcasts antisemitic poison on a par with what's preached at Al-Azhar and Qatar's Al-Jazeera in Arabic (as opposed to their more low key broadcasts in English.)

PMW has an archive of antisemitic videos on PA TV and no less articles in the official newspaper of the PA, al-Hayat al-Jadida, whose propaganda is on a par with anything the Nazis produced.

Just the other day, Jibril Rajoub, who did five years in an Israeli prison for terrorist crimes, who during the height of the Oslo delirium was the beloved pet of Israeli dolts like Fuad Eliezer who saw in him a partner for peace -- you know, the guy who just tried to get Israel kicked out of FIFA, the international soccer league -- said on PA TV the other day in response to critics, "Brothers, am I preventing you from slaughtering a settlement? No one is stopping anyone."

This is a call to mass murder, to massacre, and that Israel does nothing about it, and has tolerated for 20 years this poison on a television station Israel gave to the PLO for free, is just pathetic.

If memory serves, right off the bat in the mid-90s, the PA TV and newspapers and magazines were writing and broadcasting this antisemitic garbage with the Oslo cultists dismissing it as a sop to the masses not to be taken seriously.

Someday, official Israel and liberal democratic governments around the world will allow themselves to see the truth that Islam is not something one can accommodate to. It should disallowed in all liberal democracies. And the sooner the better.

Yes, Israel and other free peoples must stop deluding themselves about Islam and Israel in particular must come to recognize that the aggression against us has nothing to do with justice for the victims of us Zionists and everything to do with timeless Jew-hatred.

Take, for example, the latest UNHRC report authored by that McGowan woman. As I suggested before this evening, the very idea of Jews can scramble people's brains. Yesterday in Geneva, she presented her report on last summer's missile exchanges and declared that international law is equally applicable to both Israel and "Palestinian armed groups."

Once again, the antiJew spirit messes up one's vision. McGowan used "Palestinian armed groups" when everyone knows that the groups firing rockets at us are anti-nationalist Muslim groups. They fire rockets at us not because they are Balestinians who want a Balestinian state but Muslims who want a global caliphate and the death of Israel, G-d forbid.

Worse, this former New York State Supreme Court Justice says international law is equally applicable to Israel and these armed groups, which is as wacky as the U.S. Supreme Court denying the plain sense of language in order to sustain Obamacare last week.

International law distinguishes between states and non-state actors who are not equal under law. International law requires that in war between states, for example, soldiers on both sides wear uniforms to identify themselves.

The Geneva Conventions likewise do not tolerate combatants hiding behind civilians as they fire at their enemies.

Hamas has been registered in various countries as a terrorist organization, that is, as a criminal, outlaw outfit, but McGowan sees equivalence between these criminals and our soldiers in uniform.

Every missile fired last summer at us, like all such projectiles fired out of Gaza into Jewish communities over the years, was an attempt at murdering Jews at random.

Versus every Israeli bullet and bomb that targeted Muslim terrorists who fired these rockets in order to suppress their fire.

And McGowan sees equivalence between us and them, these Hamas freaks who entered the stage of history as suicide bombers, just like the maniacs on 9-11?

This is the face of antisemitism in our time. Antisemites have scrambled brains. In generations past, Jew-haters were open about their hatred and desires; today, they masquerade as lovers of the victims of Zionism who need relief supplies in Gaza.

On the boat that Israel boarded and brought in, there were no relief supplies. They are not needed. Every day Israel administers the entry into Gaza of 800 semi-trailers bringing anything and everything. I happen to think this is a huge mistake that Israel does this. It is a form of corruption on Israel's part but at least the truth remains that contrary to the antiJews on that boat, there is no need for relief supplies as if the Arabs in the Strip were starving to death.

Israel and the West have to wake up to the reality of Islam and basically go to war against it. And Israel has to come to grips with the truth that our neighbors, the Arabs, and the Iranians and the Turks, are at least as crazy in their heads about Jews as any demented goy nation in history including the German Nazis.
