Shalom laYebudim, Shalom laBnai Noach, Shalom laGoyim. It's the evening of the 6th day, kaf-bes beMenachem Av, tav-shin-ayin-heb, Parashas Ekev, the evening of the 5th day, Thursday, 6 August 2015, webcasting from the source of all the trouble.

The Jews are the source of all the trouble. Why, just yesterday the president of the United States of America said the whole world supports his Iran plan except for Israel.

You know, like the process I cover in my book of one country and continent after another in the 1970s and 80s reaching out to shake Yasir Arafat's hand so that a Biblical generation after the founding of Israel in 1948, in 1988, the United States became the last major country in the world to recognize the PLO which left Israel all alone in the world for refusing to do that.

So that in 1993, a year after coming to power, the post-Jewish leftists here, who could not stand the isolation, reached out to shake Arafat's hand too and to promise him real estate, developed real estate in the heart of the heart of the Promised Land, and that was called the Handshake on the White House Lawn, the Oslo Peace Process for which Rabin, Peres and Arafat all got the Nobel Prize for Peace – and never mind there was no peace. Basically, what there was was its opposite, thousands of homicidal attacks on Jews in which thousands died and thousands more were wounded, many seriously for life.

And now Israel is all alone again under the thumb of the Muslim Communist in the White House. Now Muslim Communist should be an oxymoron, a logical contradiction, for the former is fanatically religious and the latter fanatically anti-religious but then Obama is a man of many parts and faces.

We'll put the link up to a recently discovered 1995 56-minute speech delivered by Harvard Law student Barack Obama about his book – it's twenty years ago now -- Dreams from My Father and it is a revealing piece of videotape. This is guy has never come to grips with being black and he remains angry about that, which anger he is entitled to – but not directed at whitey, that's the problem, because whitey did not decide to make him black. G-d did.

This guy has a lot of Louis Farrakhan in him. He also has more pleasant sides we have not seen in office. I watched 32 minutes of the 56 and had enough. It is a window into this man and why he remains unfit for office. He turns out to be the champion exploiter in the age of Affirmation Action with his big smile and not sounding black and with a politician's habit of backslapping and false bonhomie. It got him from station to station in life, and it was the age of making allowances for Negroes, lowering standards. Obama was the consummate con man playing upon the white man's guilt in order to advance his career.

It would not hurt the U.S. Congress to pass legislation requiring every presidential candidate in the future to make public his school records. No one has ever seen the paperwork for his alleged time at Columbia University. One idea for the secrecy is that they would show, if exposed, that he applied as a foreign student and got foreign aid. Another idea for not disclosing his record was his lousy academic record suggesting he was not the "smartest guy in the room."

I don't think he is smart at all. Just about every day, he says things that stand you up, such as saying the United States has 57 states and the slaughter at Ft. Hood had nothing to do with Islam. Yesterday, he gave a major address in honor of a major address given by the late Pres. Kennedy at American University in 1963 in Washington, D.C...let us tarry over that for a moment. This lecture was given in the capital of the United States of America at a university called American University, where this president said, "Just because Iranian hardliners chant 'Death to America' does not mean that that's what all Iranians believe. In fact, it's those hardliners who are most comfortable with the status quo. It's those hard-liners chanting 'Death to America' who have been most opposed to the deal, and they making common cause with the Republican caucus."

Oh dear. He says, "Just because Iranian hardliners chant, 'Death to America' does not mean that that's what all Iranians believe."

I find this a simply cracked vision of reality starting perhaps with a profound ignorance of Iran and the Middle East in general. It is these hardliners who are the government in Iran; they are the dictators. This is a not faction unrepresentative of "all Iranians."

Virtually all Islamic, Middle Eastern states are unrepresentative of the people. They are family affairs, gang-like cliques. In Iran's case, it is a caste of priests. It does not matter what the people in Iran think. It does not matter that most Iranians don't chant "Death to America." What matters is the regime in power and that is who organizes these massive rallies. Or does Obama think that these massive rallies of Muslims chanting "Death to America" are not organized by the government? What? By NGOs, non-governmental organizations, community organizers?

On what planet is this man living? In this man's mind yesterday was the image of an Iran in which the hardliners are opposed to this deal when it is the hardliners who made the deal. From Khomeini on down. This split in his mind between hardliners and those who made the deal has no foothold in the truth of the situation. Like Muslims, like Arabs, Barack Obama describes reality the way he wants it to be at any given moment and not the way it is.

Yesterday, JPost sourced Fared Zakaria on CNN interviewing former U.S. Ambassador to Saudi Arabia Robert Jordan who said that the week following 9-11, the King of Saudi Arabia – you know, the country whence bin-Laden and 15 of his 19 agents came -- telling him, the US Ambassador, that the Mossad did it. It was the Mossad that orchestrated the hijacking of those four planes and what they did in New York and to the Pentagon. That eruption of satanic Muslim Hell on earth was, according to the king of Saudi Arabia, the handiwork of the Israelis.

This is with whom we are dealing. Our enemies, these enemies, are as flakey about Jews as Hitler and his Germans ever were. They are as delusional about Jews as Jew-haters have always been. The Arabs today in their majority believe 9-11 was the Mossad and probably also in their majority believe we kidnap non-Jewish children to kill them and suck out their blood. We are people of Draculas, vampires.

And then there was a week ago Obama's partner in the Iran deal, the Iran lunacy, John Kerry. who said he doesn't know if Iran is serious about destroying Israel.

Can you believe it? I sometimes feel I am flying in a commercial airliner like that lost Malaysian one. or the one that lunatic flew them into a mountain last winter, with Obama and Kerry at the controls, the pilot and co-pilot, who in all seriousness have talked themselves and others into believing the inhuman fantasy that the way to go with Iran is to pay them off. Hand over the money that was frozen in 1979 now worth 150 billion dollars and let them maintain at some level a nuclear program which will lead to an atomic bomb. That is how the world, these two and their P5+1 collaborators, believe things should be with Iran.

Everyone knows you don't know give matches and a can of gasoline to a five-year old to play with, but to the world's No. 1 aggressor state that publicly crows its fantasy of dropping an atomic bomb on Israel, you do give 150 billion dollars and tell them 'you can keep your bomb-making project?' That that is the way to deal Iran, according to Obama and Kerry, these twin traitors.

It is a matter of record the number of US men in uniform killed by the Iranians since 1979 with their roadside bombs in Iraq, the Marines in Lebanon, in the barracks in Saudi Arabia, on a ship in Yemen. Thousands of Americans have been killed by these Iranians.

It is also a matter of record that Iran was convicted in a New York court of collaboration in 9-11, and here is the government of the United States led by those two cracked-brain men deciding that this is the way to deal with Iran.

Obama's pitch is either "my plan or war, diplomacy or war," with the implication that diplomacy is always better; with the implication that war is always the wrong choice, a bad thing to do.

Which is simply not true. When the U.S. came into existence under the new Constitution in 1789, the government had only three departments: the office of the executive, of Pres. Washington and a clerk or two; the Treasury Department with one thousand tax collectors, that was the big problem in those days; and the third was the Department of War, because these wise men knew that claiming your independence is just the beginning because you must fight in every generation to keep it.

How far America has fallen from its glorious youth, from George Washington who could not tell a lie to Barack Obama who cannot stop lying and distorting reality.

* * (Musical Interlude) * *

And that was the first selection on a brand new disc from Aharon Razel, who in my opinion is Israel's Paul Simon, musically if not lyrically.

So, yes, it was a nice coincidence that that moron John Kerry who is still puzzling over Iran and its true intentions said what he did last week, which as an accidental prelude to the release this week of the first English translation of the new 416-page book by Mr. Hardcore Himself in Teheran, Ayatollah Khomeini. The book is called Falastin.

When it was reported yesterday on FOX, they got the title wrong and I wonder how accidental or intentional that was. They used some subtitle-type substitute when mentioning this book but did not use its proper name, Falastin, which speaks volumes in reply to John Kerry still scratching his head over how much the Iranians mean it when they say they want to destroy Israel.

Here is this man's magnum opus -- he has probably published nothing like it in his life -- Mr. Big, a successor to Ayatollah Khomeini, and its title is Falastin because his obsession with Israel is the be-all and the end-all of his spiritual life. You'll find the English translation somewhere on the Net.

The man is obsessed with Israel. Destroying Israel is Islam's No. 1 need and desire. "Palestine is the most important issue of the Islamic World. There is not any other international issue in the world of Islam more important than the issue of Palestine."

These are his words, and I pray someone gets to read just these few sentences at a press conference to John Kerry and ask him if he still thinks that he does not know what is in the Ayatollah's mind.

This seems to be an amazing document. Israel is called an infected gland or cancer. This is the language of the Nazis who did not see human beings when they looked at Jews but giant microbes with the supernatural ability to look and act like human beings but they remained microbes bent on poisoning the purity of German blood to kill off the German race, take over Germany and the whole world.

Well, ladies and gentlemen, that has been my message for years. These people are on the same level as Nazis in their thoughts when it comes to Jews. Like it or not, believe it or not, you and I may be living in the 21st century but these Muslims are not. At work is a brain right out of the 7th century when Islam arose that has never ceased functioning.

A couple of weeks ago, JTA, the Jewish Telegraphic Agency, reported on a Canadian couple that had converted to Islam but were caught in time for planning to blow up the British Columbia legislature and to enter a synagogue and kill all the Jewish children because grown-up Jews go to eternal Hell, they said, and this would be doing the children a favor. Not becoming adult Jews is good because then they won't go to eternal hell; they go to paradise.

This is with whom we are dealing and it is an across-the-board phenomenon from the lowest illiterate in Araby to the king of Saudi Arabia. They all think 9-11 was the Mossad at work.

Yasir Arafat said the Jews never had a temple on Haram a-Sharif, and so did his sidekick Saeb Erekat, partner to Tsipi Livni in the peace process.

And now we have in the State Department the nominal head of foreign policy that cannot see clearly into Ayatollah's Khomeini's mind. And we have an Obama, Kerry's boss, who thinks the hardliners are opposed to the Iran deal, when it was the hard-liners who made the deal with him.

This is why I sometimes think we are all flying in an airliner with a pilot and co-pilot not playing with a full deck. A co-pilot, a secretary of state, who complained to Jeffrey Goldberg this week that if Congress votes down the deal, it would be the "ultimate screwing of the ayatollah." "They constantly believed we are untrustworthy, that you can't negotiate with us, that we will screw them. This will be the ultimate screwing. He will not come back to negotiate. Out of dignity, out of a suspicion that you can't trust America. America is not going to negotiate in good faith. It didn't negotiate in good faith now, would be his point."

Heaven help us. This man is confused as to whose side he is on and who he represents. Like Obama after last winter's beheading festivals was defending Islam to the American people, bringing up the Crusades, instead of defending the American people from Islam, from these enemy aliens who were beheading American citizens. And here is Kerry speaking up for the "dignity" of this ayatollah who doubts America's good faith.

Is he, Kerry, out of his mind? To a degree, yes. What is he doing defending this man's dignity, this international outlaw, this engineer of terrorist atrocities all over the planet, including his involvement in 9-11? Has John Kerry gone insane?

For sure, he surely resembles his boss in this regard, the two of them, as reported last spring, have become advocates for the Iranians. They see things their way.

This is why the two of them are traitors. For sure, they don't see themselves as traitors, but their view, their opinion of their own actions, is not necessarily the correct one. Their deeds must be judged as deeds and we'll worry about the motivation later on. They are deeds of treachery and treason.

Both of these men have talked themselves and others into believing the way to deal with Iran is showering it with cash and allowing it to have an atomic bomb, if not in the coming decade then the next.

Willy-nilly, will you nil you, they are advocates for collaborating with the enemy and therefore are traitors.

* * (Musical Interlude) * *

Okay. For sure, I did not open this webcast with the depressing, late breaking news of yet another attempted vehicular homicide near Shilo, where the Ark of the Covenant rested for over four centuries.

An Arab driving a car injured three soldiers standing on the side of the road, two of them quite seriously, before one of them shot him and his car flipped over.

And let us hear, if we hear anything, what the enlightened world community says tomorrow. Will it be of the same intensity and indignation and finger-wagging at the Arabians as we were subjected to after last Friday's two murders?

Of course Dr. Mogherini will not deliver the goods. And in a way I can't blame her overly. In her anti-Jew way, there is no moral equivalence between Jews and Arabs in Judea and Samaria. The former, the Jews, are criminal occupiers of land belonging to the Balestinians, and so that arson last Friday, by presumably Jewish criminals, was just another example of their cruelty, their sadistic, pointless cruelty against their victims -- versus these vehicular homicide attempts which are perfectly understandable. The former crime of arson was but another example of Jewish evil, of their satanic cruelty visited upon the Ancient Ones at random, versus an act of desperation by an Ancient Palestinian freedom-fighter fighting to liberate his ancient land from the evil Jews.

This is what is in Mogherini's head, everybody's head, thanks to numerous factors, one of them being Israel's chronic refusal, as in the Age of the 12 Spies, to declare, "This land is our land."

Netanyahu and fellow Israelis bitterly complain that the world is silent over this type of violence in Judea and Samaria, as we saw today, but not the other kind. In a way, that is a fair criticism.

But it still does not answer to the anti-Jew mind at work here. Israelis, like the Arabs who construct reality as they want it to be, see a situation in which both Jews and Balestinians have a right to statehood here, but the Balestinians refuse to join us in that belief.

But the other side, which includes the Enlightened, sees the Jews bereft of all right. Israel was built on stolen Balestinian land and so it can never be treated as less than a criminal enterprise in which Jews do not have the same rights to this land that the world today says belongs to the Ancient Palestinians who have been living here from time immemorial. They are the victims of Zionism. In that scenario, Israel has no rights, has no claim.

In a nutshell, not even the otherwise excellent Bibi Netanyahu can assert our right to sovereign ownership in Judea and Samaria. He complains about the world's double standard in relating to the violence that goes on here, them against us and us against them, but that is the whole point. In the eyes of the Enlightened, there is no moral equivalence between Balestinians and Jews when it comes to Judea and Samaria. The former demand their rights over their ancient homeland, and the latter says, "Let's a make a deal," when the riposte should be, "No, this is not your land. It is our land as of right and your claim is a lie."

* * (Musical Interlude) * *

Last thought for the webcast: In discussing the unreality and/or ignorance of this man Obama, this alleged "smartest guy in the room" according to his cheerleaders and acolytes, he admitted in his speech at American U. yesterday that Iran's leaders deny the Holocaust and embrace the ideology of antisemitism and facilitate the flow of rockets on Israel's borders."

And I was struck by his expression "embracing the ideology of antisemitism." But it is not an ideology. This gives it credit for something that it is not. Communism is an ideology commonly calling for government ownership of the means of production. Antisemitism is a concatenation of delusions revolving around the alleged evil that Jews do that they don't do. It is the most murderous delusion in history, judging by the figures produced out of World War II, the number of victims.

It is an abyss of satanic hatred and evil characterized by projecting all of one's own evil onto the Jews. Obama dignifies antisemitism with the word "ideology."

I hope that the prime minister and others here and friends of Israel in the States make a lot of noise, as much as they can about this new book by the mass murdering criminal priest in Teheran called Falastin which surely deserves to be compared to Mein Kampf, and I hope some journalist gets to ask Obama and Kerry about it.

It should play a huge role in the debate in Congress over the now less than 60 days. Will AIPAC have the brains and guts to make noise about this it?

We shall see.
