Shalom laYebudim, Shalom laBnai Noach, Shalom laGoyim. It's the evening of the 4th day, kaf-dales beTisbrei, Parashas Beraishees, tav-shin-ayin-vav, the evening of the 3rd day, Tuesday, 6 October 2015, webcasting from Israel, island of civilization in a sea of barbarians.

"Flabbergasted" might be a good word to describe many Israelis today as they responded to the news since last Thursday. You know, on Thursday night, just about the time I was finishing up the webcast, a lovely couple, a young rabbi and wife and four little children, the oldest 9, were driving innocently to their home in Samaria not far from where Abraham, the first Jew, had camped on entering this land 3,753 years ago, when some of the sons of his wild ass of a concubine, Hagar, opened fire with automatic weapons and murdered Rabbi Eitam and Naama Henkin, both in their thirties, riding with their children, the youngest, 9 months, I think. He was a much-loved rabbi, whose brother is a lecturer at the IDF Staff and Command College. Naama was described as a gifted graphic artist who was running a new business and making it grow.

Eitam, one report said, though full of bullet holes, managed to exit the car, throw open a back door and shout to his children to run for their lives before he collapsed.

"Flabbergasted," I think, is a good word to describe many Jews and others in Israel today at the satanic cruelty of this act of pure evil.

And if that did not get to you, then there was the attack on Motzei Shabbos/ Saturday evening, two days later in the Old City, when another couple with little children were pounced upon by a knife-wielding agent of evil and cruelty who stabbed the two of them repeatedly.

Another Jew heard their cries and ran to help but he was stabbed and to death too along with Aharon Bennett, 21 years old. His stabbed wife Adele ran, with the little ones in tow (I am not sure about that detail) but run she did with the would-be murderer's knife planted in her neck and asked for help from Arab bystanders who only sneered at her, spit in her face, slapped her, laughed and told her to die.

Flabbergasted is the word. I think even before the horror sinks in, such news can trigger a sense of utter, speechless amazement at the savage, barbaric cruelty of these Arabs and their behavior which is as sub-civilized as ever.

There were also the past few days mobs in various places, the pelting of soldiers and police with rocks.

There was another stabbing of 15-year Jewish boy in the Old City a few hours after the couple was stabbed. He was not too badly hurt.

And you know why all of this stabbing? They caught the murderer of the two men in the Old City and he said in explanation, "What is happening to the Al-Aqsa Mosque, what is happening to our holy places and the way of our Prophet and what is happening to the women of Al-Aqsa and our mothers and sisters. I do not believe the people will succumb to this humiliation."

Yes, for weeks now, the great white hope of peace Mahmoud Abbas has been spewing lies of Israeli aggression on the Temple Mount. He has also praised the Arab women there shrieking like banshees into Jewish faces, literally, peacefully visiting the Temple Mount. Defense Minister Bogie Yaalon banned them a few weeks ago, and this was perceived by the murderer as a "humiliation."

Abbas was just in Moscow and there too he complained of Israel's destruction of the status quo. Last week, Abbas spoke at the UN and also began his speech with these words: "I come before you today from Balestine, compelled to sound the alarm about the grave dangers of what is happening in Jerusalem, where extremist Israeli groups are committing repeated, systematic incursions into Al-Aqsa Mosque, aim at imposing a new reality and dividing Haram a-Sharif temporally, allowing extremists under the protection of the Israeli occupying forces and accompanying ministers and Knesset members, to enter the Mosque at certain times, while preventing Muslim worshippers from accessing and entering the Mosque at those times and freely exercising their religious rights."

He spoke of Israel's "brutal force" and "this is a scheme that Israel is pursuing in direction violation of the status quo since before 1967."

This is all wrong. His own Oslo documents are the basis of today's status quo.

And not only Abbas has been speaking this way. Turkey's Erdogan is threatening Israel for aggressing against Al-Aqsa, the king of Jordan has piped up, and the king of Saudi Arabia.

Nothing unites these primitives more than their Jew-hatred. Left to their own devices and culture, they are constantly massacring one another in great numbers. Is there another region on earth like the Middle East over the last generation where in Lebanon in the 70s and 80s 150,000 were killed in their version of a civil war? In Algeria in the 90s, 200,000? Today in Syria, over 300,000 killed.

Nothing unites them more than their shared hatred of the one small Jewish state in their midst, which by its very civilized way of life shames them terribly.

And as usual the rallying point has nothing to do with the Balestinians and their need for a state and everything to do with religion. What is happening today is exactly what happened fifteen years ago when Arik Sharon of blessed memory “dared” just to walk in front of Al-Aqsa Mosque. This ignited the so-called second intifada known as the Al-Aqsa Intifada. I am amazed but not totally surprised that not one Israeli pundit today takes note of the similarity.

Also lying undisturbed in the sub-cellar of memory here are the events of August 1929 when over a three-day period, the Muslims went berserk and butchered some 137 Jews in several locations in Mandatory Palestine, half of them in Hebron, most of whom were not even Zionists, just Haredi boys learning in yeshiva.

And why did that three-day pogrom erupt in 1929? Because Haj Amin al-Husseini, the Arab leader, spread the rumor that the Jews (no “Israelis in those days) had set fire to Al-Aqsa Mosque. And to persuade his brethren, he produced post-card size photographs of Al-Aqsa in flames – clearly a doctored photo. He sent these all around Balestine. He also said the Jews had murdered 500 believers.

None of this was true, of course, as today Abbas and all of these Arab ragheads threaten Israel for its alleged violations of the Al-Aqsa Mosque. It’s the same-old same-old, but no Israeli politician or journalist points that out.

These Arabs are the lowest of the low. Flabbergasted is the word for a lot of people I think in Israel today, stunned by the utter cruelty of these murderers and the support Abbas and others give to them, and their complete disregard for the truth.

It is almost as if these Arabs are pre-Edenic, meaning, they are pre-human, pre-Adam and Eve, pre- the Garden of Eden.

It is said that in the Zohar, the, so to speak, bible of Jewish mysticism, in a most Darwinian fashion, it says that before Adam and Eve, there were 970 -- let’s call them proto-types -- 970 generations of man who were not yet human. In the Garden of Eden, Adam and Eve were the first to eat of the Tree of the Knowledge of Good and Evil, its full title, and thus was man, as we know him today, born. With a conscience; with a clear understanding that there is good and there is evil. They are not the same and the Creator wants man to choose good over evil.

It is as if these Arabs have no empathy, no ability to imaginatively identify with another human being in his suffering. For sure, it is not so for all Arabs. Just a few weeks ago, remember, in Hevron, a mob of these unbridled, teenage, Ishmael clones menaced a group of lost American Jewish visitors who were rescued by an Arab man who pulled them inside his house and called the IDF.

In Hevron as well, in 1929, there were good Arabs who saved Jews and hid them.

But overall -- over all -- there are just too many of these wild asses of largely teenage males who have no limits on their behavior. That murderer in the Old City on Motzei Shabbos was a 19-year-old law student -- of all subjects for this lawless brute to pursue. His name is Muhammad Halabi, which last name identifies his roots in the ancient city of Aleppo, in Syria. No ancient Palestine he. He claimed it was the "attacks" on Al-Aqsa Mosque and "our holy places, our mother and sisters by Al-Yahud. And his people would no succumb to humiliation."

These Muslims are as daft, as they say in England, as any Nazi at his most demented.

* * (Musical Interlude) * *

Yes, what has been going on here in recent weeks is the old Arab tactic of claiming Al-Aqsa Mosque is under attack.

Actually, to be bloody-minded about it, it is in truth nowhere near as severe an eruption as the last intifada, which was far more organized, so for that, perhaps, we might be grateful.

Also at work might be just plain biology. It has been years since the last flames of Intifada II flickered out, even a decade, and so today's 17-year-olds were 7 years old at that time who watched in awe and admiration their older brothers challenge the evil Jews by throwing rocks at them. When I was 7, a 17-year-old teenager was man, a role model. And today, 2005's 7 year-olds are now 17 and itching to test their mettle in battle against the evil Jews. At the end of the hajj, a Believer throws rocks at stone pillars symbolizing the shaitan/ Satan/the devil and throwing rocks at Jews is also throwing rocks at the devil.

In a way, this week's violence is reminiscent of the 17-year cicada, that locust type insect that lies dormant in the soil for 17 years, then pops out for one day, mates and returns for another 17 years, or something like that.

There is something cyclical here in these eruptions of homicidal Jew-hatred. Notice, too, how the murderer of the two in the Old City cited "humiliation" as a driving force for him. The Arabs are obsessed with issues of dominance and submission, tyranny and humiliation. Saddam Hussein was known to, when he felt slighted by a man, send his goons to the man's house to arrest his wife and take her back to Saddam who raped her many times before his goons returned her to her husband.

Muammar Gaddafi likewise when he traveled was accompanied by a group of stunningly beautiful women in pantsuit uniforms and were described as experts in the martial arts -- they were called his bodyguards -- when in truth they all had been spotted somewhere in public by his cronies and kidnapped of the street for their beauty. They were brought to Gaddafi and became in effect his sex-slaves whom he had his way with whenever he chose.

It is a culture obsessed with power, domination and submission. Islam means submission. When a Muslim prays, he goes down on the floor like a terrified dog begging for mercy from his cruel master, face to the floor, the dirty floor. That is how Muslims pray. That is the position of a Muslim peasant when brought before the local tribal chief. He shows his submission by going down like this saying “Salame, salame.”

Life for these Hamites, whose ancestor Ham may have homosexually raped his own father, is a struggle between bullies and the bullied, no holds barred. It could very well be that many Arabs in Judea and Samaria oppose such cruelty as we have seen these last five days but they dare not express their opposition in public lest those who support the murderers murder them too. They are a people cursed in the Torah to be slaves of slaves and they seem to be.

For whatever reasons, I think, simply because Abbas must also prove his credentials as a Jew-hater, he is doing this. He has stirred up the blood of his barbaric people. His own Fatah took responsibility for the murder of the Henkins and of course not only did he not condemn that horrible massacre of those parents in front of their children and the creating of four new Jewish orphans, he condemned Israel for killing such murderers in self-defense over the past two days, two of them.

This too is the same-old same-old. In medieval Tunis, a Jew was forbidden to raise his hand to a Believer even when attacked. Even when spit upon in the street, the Jew was forbidden to raise a hand to shield his face from the spit. That too was considered an insult, raising a hand to a believer, and the punishment could be the chopping off of the offending hand. To this very day, in Islam’s universe, all Jewish violence against Arabs is a crime, even self-defense.

Last month, remember, as part of his rabble-rousing over Al-Aqsa Mosque, Mr. Secular Moderation Abbas said he blessed every drop of Muslim blood that has been spilled in Jerusalem, which is “clean and pure blood, blood spilled for Allah. Every martyr will reach Paradise. The Al-Aqsa Mosque is ours, the Church of the Holy Sepulcher is ours and the Israelis have no right to defile it with their dirty feet.”

He also praised those shrieking women yelling into Jewish faces.

I suppose if there is an upside to the current bout of Arabs salivating for Jewish blood, to spill it and maybe even dip their hands in it as we saw 15 years ago, the upside is, I think, the shock in Israel today, people flabbergasted at how cruel and conscienceless and lacking all empathy for other human beings these Arabs are, whose lunatic religion only makes things worse.

I think Islam in the 7th century elevated the Arabs beyond their previous state of paganism – they no longer worshipped rocks, trees and mountains or the moon – but it failed to fully drag these savages into civilization.

And civilization, as that genius Jewish apircorus/heretic Freud taught, without conscience, without guilt -- and I would add without empathy -- is impossible.

* * (Musical Interlude) * *

One interesting feature of the current horrors our barbaric neighbors are inflicting on us now is how quickly our security agencies like the IDF, GSS, Police and Border Patrol were able to get their hands on the five savages who pulled off the murder of Rabbi Eitam and Naama Henkin last Thursday night, h"y. One imagines that one factor is the need by the guilty to brag about their “heroics” so that it is no great secret who was responsible. Afterwards, they all confessed and that too is significant, even if the word “confession” is not quite right here. That has the ring of repentance, when these brutes bear no guilt. They don't know what it is. This is no confession. It is boasting. They are proud of what they did.

On the downside, the media here also reported that the leader of this quintet of ethical and emotional Neanderthals was once a prisoner in Israel and let go, like hundreds of others who likewise were imprisoned and let go, which speaks volumes about the defects in the Israeli character.

I find it intolerable that Israel does this. It is part of the same defective syndrome that leads to not having a death penalty – how enlightened. HaShem calls for the death penalty in the Torah following the great Flood, probably because before the Flood homicide was so common.

But as with most things to come out of the modern era of rebellion against religion, the modern liberal and leftist sees himself on a higher moral plane than that Old Testament morality.

Like the socialists who created the first kibbutzim where newborn infants after six weeks at the mother's breast were taken away and raised communally. These collectives thought they had a better arrangement than the nuclear family designed by the Creator. They knew better.

So one reason for the persistence of these eruptions of homicidal violence by these Hamitic Arabs is Israel's refusal to execute these killers of Jews. It is simply not right that a murderer of a Jew can be taken care of for many years in a prison far less restrictive than most in the world and even liberated to kill again. This is a social pathology of the Jewish people. Lots of peoples, the Arabs and the Russians, the Chechens and the Croats, are given to merciless violence but the Jews' Achilles Heel may be our excessive not violence but mirror image revulsion when it comes to violence.

Our first King Saul was ordered to slay Agag, king of the Amalekites, but did not, which infuriated the Prophet Samuel who had to do it himself.

Today, Reuters reported on further destruction of the ancient structures in Palmyra, Syria by ISIS, built by the Romans two thousand years ago. This is further evidence of what enemies of civilization these Muslims are.

Notice the war here against history and the facts of the past that is so characteristic of these Arabs and other Muslims. Their current campaign is against Israel's “aggression” against Islam's holy site, when it was these Muslims fifteen years ago who spent months carting truckloads of soil off the Temple Mount to destroy evidence of its Jewish past.

Think of the Qur'an which is the destruction of the Jewish past found in the Torah, re-writing it and claiming the Jewish version to be corrupt and worthy of being trashed.

Think of the Palestinian National movement that likewise trashes Zionist history, claiming it was something other than what it was. Think of their Holocaust Denial; more denial and trashing of history.

Whether the world knows it or not, Islam is the mortal enemy of the ascent of man, the enemy of civilization, of transcending man's basest animal-like impulses, reflexes and urges.

Israel has to open its eyes, stop trying to make peace with these barbarians and settle for managing them and defending against them until Moshiach arrives.

Lastly, in keeping with the end of the last segment, Memri.org reported that an Iraqi historian and archaeologist named Ali al-Nashmi said that there was an international Jewish mafia that aims to acquire Iraqi antiquities; and one named Walid al-Assad, director of the museum in Palmyra, who said that Jews wanted to destroy the city of Palmyra and wipe it off the face of the earth, and why? In order to erase the memory of their Babylonian exile."

This of course makes no sense. In any case, he wants to imply that it is the Jews who are blowing up Palmyra, not ISIS.

Of course he says that. Were he to speak the truth, ISIS would chop off his head.

These Arabs are a lost cause and the sooner Israel accepts that, the better.
