Shalom laYehudim, Shalom laBnai Noach, Shalom laGoyim. It is the evening of the 4th day, kaf-bes beMar Heshvan, Parashas Khayei Sarah, tav-shin-ayin-vav, the evening of the 3rd day, Tuesday, 3 November 2015, webcasting from the Old-New Land of Theodor Herzl who knew nothing of this Land, thank G-d.

Surely, it was the Almighty's plan to drive Herzl on his mission, he who had no knowledge of this country; of Islam, of Islam's feelings about Jews. Had he known any of that history, I doubt he would have launched his crusade. The Lord needed an ignoramus.

To read Herzl's fantasy novel of the state of the Jews twenty years after its imagined peaceful birth, and then to read the day's news here in Israel, is to see how far off the mark Herzl was, he whom post-Jewish Israelis celebrate as the Father of His Country who merits a special memorial day. Herzl did not imagine that 67 years after the emergence of his imaginary state, the goyim here would be daily plunging knives into the backs of Jews and most importantly at random. For sure, he never dreamed that the knifemen would also be bent on suicide in the name of Allah.

Yesterday, another Muslim afire with hamas, which means religious zeal, committed the "holy" act of plunging a knife into the back of an 80-year-old Jewish woman. Herzl never conceived of such an act of "piety," leastwise in the fever swamps of Muslim brains.

This happened in Rishon LeZion, meaning "First in Zion," established by Jews in 1882 fleeing from Russia following the massacres there following the assassination of the Czar for which, of course, the Jews were blamed. This happened a dozen years before Herzl jumped on the bandwagon of those who believed Jews had to flee the European Diaspora and its horrible violence and return to their ancient homeland to restore it to vitality where they would be safe.

Also yesterday in Netanya, a 71-year-old Jewish man was stabbed in the back by a very religious goy, for religious reasons.

But Israelis, due to their special circumstances of growing up in a cocoon of only Jewish neighbors, and Herzl's highly deficient theory, have yet to accept that the Jewish people, by restoring Zion and returning home, have leapt from the frying pan into the fire. They have to accept that the Arabs here, our neighbors, are at least as crazy in their heads about Jews, as Germans and other Europeans were last century and really for many centuries.

Today in a Jerusalem courtroom, a 15-year-old Ishmaelite boy, and his friend a 17-year-old Ishmaelite boy, were indicted for plotting the murder of Jews at random. These were two Arabs from A-Tur, which is perched on the Mount of Olives, who descended into the lower Arab section last week where they had something to eat in a restaurant then went to a computer store and played with the equipment, and then went into a hardware store to buy a serious knife and an ax.

They then went with their purchases in a bag to IDF Square at the end of Jaffa Street near Jaffa Gate into the Old City, sat down on a bench and waited.

Thank G-d, a policeman passed by and something made him go over and check them out, and in the end they were arrested and indicted today for their dreams of homicide.

Somewhere on the Net yesterday, I saw a video out of Gaza of a smiling young man with a knife talking to others like him and asking each one, "How would you stab a Jew?" And each one with a smile on his face willingly pantomimed his technique for doing that.

These are our neighbors and we have to rethink how to deal with them and with the world that unlike 50 years ago has turned against us.

I am thinking of the Six-Day War when Western liberals and leftists were with Israel. In 1967, the politically correct had yet to discover the Ancient Palestinian people in this violence; they did not know they existed. After all, in 1967 and for two decades before, the King of Jordan, a direct descendant of Muhammad, did not think that the Arabs on the other side the Jordan River from where he ruled were a different nation entitled to their own state. He thought they were Jordanians too and treated them as such. He did not believe they were a different nation entitled to a state on the west bank (sic, that was the orthography in 1967).

Last week as well, the United Nations Cultural, Educational and Scientific Organization, UNESCO, in its Olympian wisdom in matters cultural, educational and scientific pronounced the Cave of the Hebrew Patriarchs and Matriarchs to be the property of the sons of Ishmael -- not Israel, not the Jews.

The UN also said the Tomb of Mother Rachel was really the tomb of a Muslim woman.

Theodor Herzl, that educated, urbane journalist, never imagined such behavior.

And then there was today's video of another Arab male sneaking up on a Jewish woman, a tour guide near Jaffa Gate talking to her charges. These tour guides are real professionals and know their history, and along came this large Arabian man behind her and smashed her on the head with a glass bottle; her intelligent, educated Jewish head, which I can sort of understand. A savage like this is typically driven by a murderous envy of Jews for their superiority, their higher-level culture, the freedom of this woman to walk around freely and make a living as a guide, with no man escorting her. Her freedom enrages such Arab men, obviously to the point of homicide. You can kill someone with a bottle like this, though I think this woman survived and now has a whopping headache.

So what are going to do? For sure, we have to re-think Zionism from the ground up and that should result in the shedding of the Herzlian mindset envisioning a community here of Jews and Arabs who live together in harmony, smiling at one another all the time.

It has not worked at that way and it is about time Israel stop playing the fantasy that peace is possible via civilized negotiations. Israel has to stop thinking there is some formula for surrendering some land but not all the land the Arabs want and reaching a peaceful compromise. Israelis are still in their dreaming mode. Or, if they are not, they are still acting as if they are.

I have in mind the official line out of Bibi's mind: "Yes, yes," he seems to say. "We want a Balestinian state but Mr. Abbas won't talk to us."

All the while, the goyim worldwide are badgering us to abandon Judea and Samaria because it does not belong to us, with Israel never ever rebutting, refuting, challenging this nasty piece of antisemitism. The proper reply to these accusations is that Judea and Samaria are legally and morally our property and we have a right to live in them in peace and prosperity and under our own sovereign self-rule.

But Israel never does.

Today there was another item about the EU on the verge of affixing labels to Israeli produce and products produced in Judea and Samaria informing the prospective buyer that they were produced land stolen by the dirty Jews -- or words to that effect.

This is a story again today, and again Israel is mute in the face of this EU aggression because the only proper riposte to the EU is claiming the land as rightfully ours and dismissing any so-called Balestinian claim as antisemitic poison in a class with other lies told about Jews for thousands of years.

Yes, Herzl never imagined our situation in Israel today. We are surrounded on three sides by 550 million Muslims whose defining identity is rooted in the theft of Judaism. Islam is a word pointing back to the binding by Avraham of his son Yitzhak on the future Temple Mount, only Islam claims that story is a lie. Ibrahim bound his son Isma'il, not Ishaq, in Mecca. We are surrendered by hundreds of millions of people whose brains are on fire with this mendacious Jew-hatred.

And not only that. They are backed by the seed of the very same Europeans Herzl suffered antisemitism from. Like the first antisemites in the 19th century, they are post-Christian but like classical Christians are still steeped in Jew-hatred which today they exercise via labelling Jewish products as Israeli as taboo. They also fund NGOs, hundreds of them, that employ thousands of Arabs and probably hundreds of Jewish anti-Jew Israelis whose work is bashing Israel for the crime of crucifying if no longer the man from Nazareth than an archaic Arab people known throughout human history as the Ancient Palestinians.

Herzl never imagined this.

Speaking of these antisemitic NGOs: on Sunday, Justice Ministress Ayelet Shaked submitted a bill requiring NGOs funded by foreign governments to advertise that. She said, "The blatant intervention of foreign countries in the State of Israel's internal matters through funding is an unprecedented, broadly-occurring phenomenon that violates all the rules and norms of relations between democratic countries."

Well, I'm not sure about that. It is part of the game of nations, particularly in matters of commerce.

What is above-average disgusting in this case is the support these Europeans and Americans and even Jewish Americans give to the Arabs who are our mortal enemies with whom we are still in a state of war to the death; our death, not theirs. That European governments and other NGOs back these Arab savages, these antisemitic, homicidal barbarians against us is intolerable. As I say, today's Federica Mogherini-types are doing what their great-grandparent forebears did only under a different set of lies.

Predictably, in reply to Ayelet Shaked's bill being submitted, the head of the Meretz Party, the anti-Jew Jewess Zahava Galon, said that Shaked is "declaring hunting season against human rights organizations."

This too is a feature of contemporary life in the Jewish commonwealth brought back to life since Herzl's day; the disguising of naked, shameless Jew-hatred as something else. Here is Zahava Galon defending today's anti-Jews in these NGOs by calling them "human rights organizations." The dishonesty is nauseating.

The ultimate human right is to life; it is to be not murdered. And when one looks at the ledger of Jews murdered by Arabs and Arabs murdered by Jews, it is no contest as to who is the greater victim of the ultimate in human rights crimes: we are.

If these NGOs were truly human rights organizations, they would devote most of their time not to defending Arabs from Jews but Jews from Arabs.

They are not human rights organizations; they are enemy propaganda organizations. They, as far I know, devote all their time and resources to human rights crimes allegedly committed by Jews and no time at all on such violations committed by Arabs.

Israel's enemies today and really throughout history are liars when it comes to claims of crimes committed by us. It has happened in every generation.

In ours, Mahmoud Abbas 22 years ago and Yasir Arafat were lying when they fooled such fools as Peres and Rabin into thinking they really had accepted Israel's right to exist and all they really wanted was just the land taken in 1967.

Liars. Dissemblers. They are like Barack Hussein Obama who repeatedly said he would not let Iran have an atomic bomb while his actions have revealed his true intent, which has been just the opposite.

Last week, Abbas addressed the UN Human Rights Council so-called in Geneva -- as if the corrupt regimes present care about human rights -- and referred to Israel's "intolerable occupation that has gone on for 67 years" --- not 48 years but since Israel declared independence. In other words, he still does not accept Israel's right to exist, and thus the entirety and I mean the entirety of the so-called Oslo Peace Process has been a lie for 22 years, though Israel remains incapable of saying so. Israel continues to admire the emperor's new clothes that simply are not that.

Recently, Abbas's advisor on Islamic Affairs who is no less the supreme sharia judge for the PLO, Mahmoud al-Habbash, in a Friday sermon called Israel the handiwork of Satan, He called Jews evil, and that is what the conflict is all about, he said, good vs. evil. For sure, this Islamic clown agrees with his colleague the Grand Mufti that there never was a Jewish Temple on Haram a- Sharif.

Israel keeps asking for civilized negotiations with these people and uses this aspiration as its primary defense in the realm of public diplomacy. "Yes, yes, Israel wants negotiations in order hand over a major part of the 'West Bank,' but Mr. Abbas won't cooperate, so, please world, don't hate us. Don't slap sanctions on us."

Enough, I say. Enough of the silence of the Jewish lambs when it comes to straight talk about our mortal enemies, these barbarians who applaud knifing old women and old men in the street at random just because they are Jews living free in their ancient homeland.

Israel has to stand up and speak the truth that with such barbarians as Abbas, Israel will not deal.

Israel has to unmask the essential lie of Oslo -- finally -- which is the Muslim recognition of the Jews' right to live free of Islam's humiliating oppression. That never happened and in the foreseeable future never will.

Some good news today was the raid last night by the IDF into Yatta, an Arab town just south Hevron, where the force invaded a radio station and walked out with all their equipment because the station had been rabble-rousing and calling for the knifing of Jews.

YNET reported that in the last month, there have been 29 attacks in the Hebron area, all but seven with knives, and the IDF sees this radio station playing a role in this.

I think the station was shut down temporarily for six months, as it has been shut down temporarily in the past; once in 2002 and once in 2008 for broadcasting lies about Jews, lies about Ishmaelite boys being kidnapped and murdered by Israel's security forces. The station also routinely praises terrorists killed in attempts on Jewish lives.

And I say this latest temporary shutdown technique is wrong. It should be permanent.

Will the NGOs protest this human rights violation, this squelching of free speech? Of course. To which Israel should reply, "We will not tolerate incitement to Jew-killing in our homeland."

I would also like to see Israel expel altogether the staffers in this station. Again, the world will protest and Israel must stand up and defy the world, saying, "We are under no moral obligation to tolerate these people in our country. These Arabs are not citizens, not members of the Jewish nation. They are enemy aliens. Not just aliens but enemy aliens belonging to a people shamelessly bent on destroying our country. We decide who lives here and we decide who has got to go."

Israel also has to, in keeping with my earlier thought on re-thinking the entire Zionist enterprise, re-think how to deal with these savages; to think "outside the box" and come up with some new way of dealing with this new technique of random backstabbing.

One idea might be to leak to the media a GSS report according to which almost all these knife-wielding guys are known homosexual prostitutes who are threatened with exposure if they do not go through with the attack.

Psychological warfare is what I am suggesting, since the entirety of "Palestinian" nationalism is a form of psychological warfare. It is one gigantic lie and Israel has the right to leak such a fictitious report, according to which all these knife boys have been blackmailed into this horrible behavior. The enemy glorifies this behavior; Israel must re-brand it into something shameful.

But above all, Israel has to jettison the 48 year-old fantasy of parting with some of the remaining spoils of war in exchange for friendly, neighborly relations with these Arabs ruling over what Israel surrenders as an independent state.

This is ridiculous. Common sense tells us Israel cannot come down from the high ground and allow the enemy to within small arms fire of our only international airport – let alone, in the process, evicting a half-million Jews from homes they bought and improved and made their lives in.

Enough already with basically perpetuating the lies and fantasies of the so-called Oslo Peace Process which brought not peace but its opposite: hell on earth.

Last item: Since that Russian plane fell from the sky last week over Sinai, all aboard not surviving, all the signs point to a bomb planted aboard by ISIS, which claims the deed.

This should not surprise and certainly not anger the Russians overly. I mean, what is sauce for the goose is sauce the gander: for decades the Russians backed the PLO that liked to plant bombs aboard planes and blow them out of the sky.

Mida kineged mida/measure for measure. What goes around comes around/karma. If indeed this is what happened, the Russians have been paid back.

Well, I think today saw little or no violence against us, thanks perhaps to the miserable weather. High winds, clouds, thick dust in the air. Health warnings over the media about not going outside.

I think it is supposed to last through tomorrow.

We shall see.
