Shalom laYehudim, Shalom laBnai Noach, Shalom laGoyim. It is the evening of the 4th day, kaf-tes beMar Heshvan, Parashas Toldos, tav-shin-ayin-vav, the evening of the 3rd day, Tuesday, 10 November 2015, webcasting from the last, legitimate Jew-killing ground on earth.

Yesterday, seven Jews were wounded by savage Arabs. Today, maybe the same number, another half-dozen attempts. Some of the homicidal maniacs of the Islamic persuasion were killed, some wounded. It is hard to keep up with this.

And then there was a similar episode across the River yesterday in old Eastern Palestine whose name has disappeared down George Orwell's Memory Hole. Yesterday, a Muslim went, literally, ballistic, using his legal weapon in that training camp outside of Amman to murder five people who were just moments before his colleagues. Two U.S. government security contractors were shot dead in the surprise attack out of the blue -- like Major Hassan at Ft. Hood about whom the Liar-in-Chief lied before the whole world, the whole planet, the solar system and galaxy that Islam had nothing to do with his rampage. And that he remained in office and was re-elected after that criminal lunacy of lying like that speaks volumes about the collapse of American culture. A nation of over 300 million people and not one person picked up the standard of impeachment?

The Muslim policeman in Amman yesterday, a symbol of law and order in a civilized society, also murdered a South African and two fellow Jordanians.

Here in Israel, another 19 year-old soldier was buried. Last week, he was run over by a barbarian in a motorcar, a machine that no Arab ever invented. What a blight on mankind these Arabs are who contribute nothing to the welfare of the planet, only bloodshed and sorrow, like those grieving families in Russia crying still over the Metrojet explosion over Sinai. While there have been numerous, other exploding aircraft in recent decades by one group of another, the overwhelming number of times a plane has exploded in mid-air since the 1960s, the bombers have been Arabians.

Now that's a contribution worthy of the Arabs: airport security. That has become a multi-billion dollar headache thanks to them. Those of us of a certain age and older remember the good old days of commercial aviation in which there was no security check. You just walked onto the plane; met your friends and relatives coming off a plane at the gate. The very idea in those days of some madman placing a bomb aboard was in no one's fears.

Now, it's a world-wide headache: going through security, extra time at the airport, take off your shoes and your belt and pants that begin to fall and maybe you are groped by a sodomite security pervert. It's all thanks to the Arabs now flooding Europe with the cooperation of the Europeans who truly are committing the suicide of nations.

But, as I ruminate on this nation of wild asses of men and their daily attempts to murder us here, compared to the endless slaughters in Syria, in Iraq, Afghanistan, Yemen, the Sinai Peninsula, maybe it is not such bad news. I mean, the violence by these antediluvian wild asses in the bodies of men is so tiny by comparison, let us be grateful and see in these daily, lone wolf attacks and other thrill-seekers and conscienceless brutes, HaShem's mercy. It could be much, much worse.

It is a world spun off its moral axis. Banner headline in the Jerusalem Post this morning: "Obama: Israel's security one of my top objectives." I read that and could only shake my head in slow motion and think this is pure misbegas, glatt kosher craziness. This man is handing over 150 billion dollars to the one nation on the planet openly salivating at the prospect of finishing Hitler's work, plus permission to build an atomic bomb, and he says, "Israel's security is one of my top objectives." This leaves me almost speechless before the weirdness of it all.

At the same time, this was the subhead: "Prime Minister at the White House: 'We haven't given up hope for a two-state solution.'"

In its own way, Bibi's quote is as detached from reality and truth as Obama's. He confronts/meets Obama's lies with lies of his own. He has been mouthing this line for over six years and likely will continue to use it until Obama leaves office. My guess is that Bibi has no great hopes for anything except survival until this man goes.

All right, but I still think he could do much more in the way of combatting other enemies besides the Muslim Obama and his co-religionists with their knives stabbing Jews these days.

I have in mind world-anti-Jewry, the anti-Zionists of the world, not necessarily Muslims or Arabs who every day emerge more clearly than the day before as this generation's successors to 20th century Nazis, 19th century antisemites and 15th century medieval Christians or Marxists, you name it. Generation in and generation out, there are groups of people who simply foam at the mouth when they think of Jews. In every generation the haters have reasons, arguments. It is always an “understandable” response in their own minds to the terrible things the Jews do. Today it is having an independent state in which they daily abuse, humiliate and subjugate the victims of Jewish nationalism, which is a cousin of Nazism.

The Internet and modern communications I find simply miraculous in letting us here in Israel see video of events all over the world, anti-Israel behavior, like this Israeli soldier in London on TV claiming that he was taught in the army to “subjugate and humiliate” the Ancient Ones.

This is clearly a fellow off the rails, a spiritual soulmate of a Noam Chomsky or a Norman Finkelstein who look upon Israel’s six million Jews surrounded on three sides by 550 million mostly Muslims and see in Israel the party that does not want peace and by implication, having to give up Israel’s daily persecution of the Ancient Palestinians, who are the legitimate balabatim, the owners of this country.

With a surprising number of these anti-Israelites legally members of the Jewish nation. These are leftists. I call them the Enlightened because that is how they see themselves. If you don’t agree with them, you live in the darkness of racism, imperialism and exploitation, cruelty to the victims of your own nation. Leftists always take the side of their nation’s enemy against their own people, and we Jews do not lack for such types.

Take, for example, America’s Reform Jews meeting these days in Orlando, Florida in their quadrennial get-together. Their leader Rabbi Rick, as he is known, spoke to his flock for an hour, sometimes accompanied on stage by dancing ballet dancers -- he used to be one -- and he won standing ovations for calling Israel’s policies toward the Arabs “misguided” and spoke against its “rigid and insular form of Judaism.”

And there you have it. This is so-called Reform Judaism today, whose community members know better than we Jews who actually live in Israel and democratically keep electing right-wing governments. They know better what’s good for us. What’s good for them is what’s good for the Jewboys in the State Department and their guru, James Addison Baker III.

What I am sure was not discussed in this convention was the Pew poll of a couple of years ago finding that some 80% of American Jews do not marry other Jews, which is like getting a report from your doctor that you’ve got cancer, G-d forbid, and its terminal.

Though I’ll bet there was another topic they surely spoke of in anger: they are not allowed to import their ideas into Israel when it comes to conversion and what that is all about. They are forever knocking on Israeli government doors demanding the right to come here and convert people to Judaism as they understand it, oblivious to the irrationality of being a movement that cannot keep its young people from leaving the Jewish people, but when it comes to bringing in new converts, they know what they are doing.

The contradiction does not occur to them.

* * (Musical Interlude) * *

Yes, there's a connection between this bizarre short circuit in the brains of so-called Reform Jews when it comes to hemorrhaging members and the demand to be allowed to "legitimately" bring in non-Jews make them Jews with the right to immigrate and live in Israel.

Of course they demand this power precisely because they are going out of business with such an inter-marriage rate and they know it. They are desperate for fresh blood but are incapable of understanding why they are dying.

Growing up among them, I knew them as smart people, smart Jews, as doctors and lawyers and dentists and successful businessmen, you name it. But when it comes to thinking about Jews, the IQ plummets into the realm of the imbecile and the moron. In research for my book, I came across in Time Magazine an article from, like, 1950 on the Reform movement and how they were discussing bringing back some of the "old rituals."

They are always saying that, but they never do. In any case, they don't understand that Orthodoxy has no "rituals." They are mnemonics, memory devices.

They have in the past in their conventions raised the problem of intermarriage and always floated the same solution: "We have to spend more money on Jewish education!" never understanding that it is their education that is the root cause of the problem; like the diabetic who thinks he can cure his condition by gulping down massive quantities of sugar. Having spent too many hours in Reform Hebrew and Sunday school rooms, I can tell you they are so destructive because they teach nothing and in any case, the Reform don't understand that one remains a Jew because one is made a Jew in the home, in imitation of Mommy and Daddy who are enthusiastic about Jewish life and live it. True Jewish identity comes from the parents in the home, not even in the best yeshiva.

Problem is, outside of these stupid Reform schools, there is nothing Jewish in their daily lives. Reform Judaism has become a splendid example of how people delude themselves in pursuit of their appetites. They want nothing to do with being "a people that dwells alone." For them, society is a melting pot of all peoples, multicultural, with no room for Jewish particularity that impinges on being a member in good standing of the large community.

Ergo, these people banter ideas indistinguishable from the loopy left-wing Democrats and think it is compatible with Jewish thought, "Jewish values."

Ergo, the news out of Orlando last Thursday that the Reform have decided to "embrace transgender people." The resolution that was approved by a voice vote that calls for -- this is from JPost -- "congregations to offer cultural training for religious school staff, sermons on transgender issues and gender-neutral restrooms where feasible."

Lord have mercy.

These people haven't got a clue as to what Jewishness is all about, which starts with the figure of Abraham who we read about two weeks ago in the Shabbos Torah reading, A parsha that ends with the mass circumcision of hundreds of Abraham's followers. He circumcised himself, his thirteen year-old son Ishmael, and with them hundreds of followers in one of the most amazing moments in human history, I think. We know that when Abraham led a hostage-rescue mission to Damascus, the Bible specifies that 318 men went with him. So at least that many circumcised themselves that day.

I tell you, if I were not circumcised, I doubt I would have guts to do it to myself, and here was the amazing Abraham with the power to address his followers and tell them to do this thing as a sign of the covenant with their God.

This is one reason why I believe the Torah is true, the handiwork of God. It is an inhuman idea in the best sense. In college and graduate school in religious studies they teach that the Torah, the Five Books, were written by many hands over much time and then edited together after the return from Babylon. There was no Moses at Sinai taking dictation from the Almighty.

And I say that the very idea of a G-d Who demands such behavior of his adherents is an idea mortal men would not come up with.

Why this behavior as the sign of a special connection to the Creator of the Universe and one special community? Why this permanent alteration of the male body done to its principle organ of reproduction? And I answer: because there is nothing more G-d-like than creating another human being. From the Jews came the notion of "holy matrimony," a ceremony before a representative of G-d that turns the two-sided relationship between bride and groom into a three-way deal. G-d's representative plays a role because he stands before two people who are going to make babies and G-d wants this to be done in the right way.

Versus the collapse of sexual morality in the West over the last half-century, the collapse of family life, the stripping of the words "abortion" and "divorce" of all embarrassment. The mass media discuss the medical issues having to do with people who are "sexually active," which has become an activity completely separate from procreation.

That was the attraction of Playboy Magazine: sexual attraction and stimulation with never one word about having babies and how to care for them and the importance of family life. Playboy avoided that subject like the plague.

Playboy is also a vehicle for advertising fantasies of great sex with beautiful women but in reality the magazine was a vehicle not for great sex with beautiful woman but self-abuse. The spilling of seed, the sin of Onan in the Torah, sexual pleasure amputated from creation of new life.

In 1966, I think, birth control became widespread, easily available, and within three years the sodomites came out of the closet claiming that since straight people had now separated sex from procreation, there was no room any more for the social stigma of being appropriately called a degenerate. Sodomites do not generate the next generation. They spill their seed having separated sexual pleasure from generating new generations and therefore were called de-generates.

The Reform can't put two and two together and see that their slavish worship of non-Jewish ideas is leading to their extinction. They are disappearing precisely because they have adopted the same behaviors as Greece and Rome in their last years.

Gay rabbis. Transgender rabbis. These Jews are off the rails. The Jews have survived all these thousands of years by never going down the road the Greeks and Romans and the men of Sodom went down. Genesis in the age of Abraham is one sex story after another, absent, of course, any prurience.

What has sustained the Jews has been a rock solid, never compromising adherence to the principle that sex is great but like nuclear energy, it requires a containment facility called marriage. Without a containment facility for nuclear energy, watch out. And with this energy to create another human being as G-d created Adam and Eve, one needs to cherish and respect and guard it and keep it within the containment facility of holy matrimony. Without an uncompromising opposition to adultery, one of the Ten Commandments, society falls apart. And, by the way, the translation of the word in Hebrew as "adultery" goes beyond the violation of the marriage vows. Without an uncompromising opposition to sexuality outside of marriage, society cannot last.

The Jews have survived because of their rock-solid, eternal sense of the holiness of this highly pleasing activity of making a baby.

This is why when Hashem wanted not to tattoo forearms with serial numbers but cut into human flesh a mark of His Covenant. He picked the right spot on the body to do it.

I lamented before that while Bibi appears to be treading water with the enemy in the White House, he could do more, but maybe, given his tactic, in the way of attacking the enemy Muslim Arabs for their complete craziness, it is not possible. He needs to attack their lying, Dark Age fantasies of Jews harvesting the organs of Arab corpses for sale.

The prime minister might also take on the Jews on the Left who have become such a menace. Take, for example, the news story here of Arab MK Hanin Zuabi's latest aggression against the state that pays her a nice salary, this nitwit who was on the Mavi Marmara. Well, she was in Amsterdam this week at that sickening Kristallnacht memorial organized by local Jewish anti-Jews, Leftists, and used her time to compare Israeli behavior to that of the Germans in the 1930s who did nothing against the Nazis in their persecution of the Jews. By inference, we Israelis are acting like Nazis toward her people, the ancient legitimate owners Balestine whose entire country we stole from them.

She accused Israel of burning down "Palestinian" churches and houses as synagogues were burnt on Kristallnacht, November 8 and 9 in Germany, 1938.

This of course is the same narrative as the Nakba. As the Jews suffered the Holocaust, the “Palestinians” suffered the Nakba that means “catastrophe” because the Jews did to them what the Nazis did to the Jews.

In fairness to her, as an Arab, as part of a people notorious for its illiteracy and general lack of education, she just may not know how satanic the Germans were to the Jews and that what they did to us has nothing to do with Israeli behavior even at its crudest.

But what struck yours truly about this news story more than her verbal droppings which we are used to, was the venue for them this time: a commemoration of Kristallnacht organized by antisemitic Jews for the purpose of accusing Jews today in Israel of acting like Nazis then. This is simply disgusting.

And these organizers are not alone. They are just anti-Jew Jews that we know so well in every community where Jews live; in Amsterdam, London, Tel-Aviv, New York, Washington, where lowlifes like Jeffrey Goldberg work and, I think, Peter Beinart too, though he may live Cambridge, Mass.

No matter. A week ago, Beinart gave a speech in a “progressive” synagogue in Los Angeles in which he uncorked the old antiJew chestnut of Jews being responsible for the suffering they bring on themselves by their unacceptable behavior. He said in reference to the latest wave of blood thirsty Ishmaelites murdering us here, “While we condemn Palestinian violence, we must recognize this painful truth: that Israeli policy has encouraged it by refusing to respond to non-violence by Balestinians; by deportations, tear gas, imprisonment and the confiscation of Balestinian lands. The Israeli government is reaping what it has sown.”

And if that is not enough to show you how off the rails this guy is, he went on – fasten your seat belts - “The September 11th attacks were a monstrous, demented response to American foreign policy, a foreign policy of support for Arab dictatorships and Israeli policies which produced tremendous suffering in the Arab world. And today’s Balestinian terrorism is a monstrous demented response to Israel’s denial of basic Balestinian rights.”

I read stuff like this and, I confess, maybe his problem is less his antiJewism than the fact that he is not very bright. If he thinks Osama bin Ladin cooked up 9-11, as he seems to say here, because of American support for Arab dictatorships – I was not aware bin Ladin was such a liberal democrat opposed to Arab dictatorships – that he hit the World Trade Center and also in opposition to Israeli policies, I don’t think Beinart knows what he is talking about. He seems not to know the region, Arab culture, Islam, the historical truth that Arabs have always lived under brutal dictatorships and always persecuted Jews, and envy the wealth of the greatest country on earth, the U.S., murderously so.

Beinart is one of those middlebrow fools who think -- I once saw this in a column of his - that anti-Zionism is not anti-Semitism. They are two separate things. Anyone who says that is an idiot, a dumbbell, a fool driven by, like others, some inner demon, some personal strife in Beinart’s own family that he cannot face but blames on the Jews.
