Shalom laYehudim, Shalom laBnai Noach, Shalom laGoyim. It is the evening of the 4th day, kaf-heb beKhodesh Teves, Parashas Vaeira, tav-shin-ayin-vav, the evening of the 3rd day, Tuesday, 5 January 2016, webcasting from either Occupied Palestinian Territory or the West Bank or Judea, origin of the word Jew.

To begin with today, yet another normal day in the history of the human race in which, as usual, some people are spewing Jew-hatred.

As stories go, this is a virtually unimportant, a real sideshow. But I think it is, by its very ordinary nature, a gem for being a specimen containing the genetic code of antiJewitis in our time in purest form.

Yesterday, a UN official living in Israel for two years quit his post in frustration. His title was Special Rapporteur of the UN Human Rights Council, the UNHRC, which should be the UNHRCFEJ, the UN Human Rights Council for Everyone Except for Jews.

Mr. Makim Wibisono of Indonesia resigned because Israel reneged on a pledge to grant him access to the "West Bank" and Gaza. He is the Special Rapporteur on the human rights situation whom Israel has not allowed into the "West Bank" and Gaza so he could not perform his official duties. In his letter of resignation, he voiced "deep concern at the lack of effective protection of Balestinian victims of continuing human rights violations and violations of international humanitarian law." He said, "Unfortunately, my efforts to help improve the lives of Balestinian victims of violations under the Israeli occupation have been frustrated every step of the way. It is with deep regret that I accept the premise upon which I took up the mandate, which is to have direct access to the victims on the Occupied Palestinian Territory will not be fulfilled.” Israel would not let him get to where he wanted to go.

You all get the picture? Israel prevented this man from the largest-in-population Muslim country on earth from entering Judea and Samaria and Gaza while not even pretending to be even-handed, objective. He was already shamelessly decided that there are such violations; that was his mandate.

This character who did nothing for two years while collecting a comfortable salary arrived here with a mandate not to investigate the possibility of human rights violations by Israel. That was a given; that was the unexamined premise of the project.

It was, in other words, yet another psychodrama in which the Jews are guilty of inhuman behavior. They perpetrate inhuman abuse of the Balestinians – but, curiously, in the minds of antiJew goyim like this UN flunky – the Balestinians are never guilty of human rights violations against the Jews, like for example, murdering us all the time in terrorist horrors.

Yesterday, a wild ass of an Arab man tried to stab a young Jewess and a Jewish man in Jerusalem; and this morning again Israeli warriors had to shoot dead like a rabid dog, a rabid wild ass of a man, who tried to run soldiers over at the Gush Etzion junction and then jump out and try to stab them. Well, not the first time, ho-hum, another Muslim maniac was shipped off to Muslim paradise. Murder is arguably, I think, a human rights violation, big time, arguably about the biggest, this attempt to take life, and here is this Muslim flunky on the UN payroll waving the flag of human rights violations committed only by al-Yahud. The Ancient Ones never commit human rights violations against the Jews.

Sort of like a stroke victim who loses not only the use of a side of his body, eventually, as I understand it, they lose the very idea of their being another side until reminded there is one. This guy is a representative of the de facto government of the world, who is inert, dead to Jewish suffering and the injustice and inhuman treatment of Jews dealt by the Arabs here. Like a stroke victim with only a half brain, he is insensate to what horrors the Muslims commit against us, and in this he is a fine example of the still very powerful state of mind known throughout history as Jew-hatred, which commonly includes hallucinations of Jewish devilry that are just that; hallucinations. And in this case, the charge is the chronic abuse at the hands of Jews whose cruelty never ends. As they crucified Jesus, they now crucify the Balestinians, that ancient nation whose homeland as old as time was stolen from them by al-Yahud, whose cruel, larcenous Jews won't give it back.

This is the psychodrama at the UN acting out age-old Jew-hatred and fear of the Jews and belief in their evil guilt. This is what the United Nations Human Rights Council is all about. Its 47 member-states spend their time on no human rights issue in the world like the question of Balestine that is discussed every time the Council convenes, once a month. Of course, the session with an already pre-determined list of agenda items to take up is a list that changes from time to time, meeting to meeting, except for the question of Balestine that is a permanent agenda item as is no other on the globe.

That says something I think about how these 47 goyim, these 47 nations, and what they think and feel about Jews. I find it fascinating that no one of the 47 ever pipes us and says, “Hey guys, don’t you think we are spending too much on one human rights situation versus all the others in the solar system?”

Of course it never happens. And that it never happens speaks volumes.

It also makes the Jews living Judea smile, this one at least, because it is further proof of the truth of Jewishness and the truth of the G-d of Israel. I sometimes think that He and the angels can’t stop laughing at the behavior of mankind in general and in particular these dimwits in the Council who commonly sneer at Jews for calling themselves the Chosen People without being conscious of their own herd mentality that willy-nilly has them responsible for treating the one Jewish state in the world as the Chosen State, chosen if not by a super-natural Deity than other people just like themselves. We receive unique, hostile treatment but these idiots don’t see themselves as the choosers of our chosen status.

I also found interesting the coverage of the resignation of this resentful UN Muslim freeloader by the Reuters correspondent, anonymous as usual. For filler in such articles, such journalists fill in with their potted histories that are uniformly more eruptions of antiJewitis of the mind that have become so common, people are unaware of it. This writer explained to readers that “Israel captured the West Bank, Gaza Strip and East Jerusalem in the 1967 Six-Day War and later annexed the latter, declaring it part of its eternal indivisible capital, a move never recognized internationally.”

Think of this: Here we read about the “West Bank, Gaza Strip and East Jerusalem” that are three geographical designations invented during the Arab war against Jewish freedom in our homeland that we brought back to life. Before 1949, there was no such geographical place on earth, called “West Bank.” No “Gaza Strip.” No “East Jerusalem,” all three names products of the timeless Arab war against the re-born Jewish state, each place-name intended to deprive the Jews of the real estate so named. In 1947, the UN drafted the Partition Plan and used the names Samaria and Judea but not “West Bank.”

Likewise the Gaza Strip. No such thing in history. Indeed, the boundary around Gaza, to this very day, this artificial rectangle 25 miles by 5-8, is nothing but the cease-fire line drawn in 1949 around the Egyptian Army that had come up from Egypt along the coast intent on overrunning Tel-Aviv but was stopped by the heroics of the kibbutzniks at Yad Mordechai.

Likewise the name “East Jerusalem.” For those who don’t know, even the embarrassingly, politically correct Jerusalem Post, uses the term “east Jerusalem,” a lower case “e” because Israel does not recognize such a separate jurisdiction.

Today, though world antiJewry uniformly uses “East Jerusalem” as if it were a separate body from Jerusalem -- as East St. Louis, Illinois is separate from St. Louis, Missouri.

Notice, too, the use of the word “annexed.” In 1967, Israel “annexed East Jerusalem.” So that is the second lie in this three-word string.

It is just not true. The city was re-united, as in 1990, Berlin was reunited. West Germany did not annex East Berlin, it tore down the wall between the two parts of the city. And that is exactly what happened here in 1967. Since 1949, there had been a wall dividing the city, an ugly jerrybuilt divider, I remember it, and with victory, local Israelis by themselves began to tear it down and cross over.

But here, as in the standard way of thinking about the Arabs’ endless war against us, Israel “captured and annexed,” it did not re-unite.

“West Bank, Gaza Strip, East Jerusalem,” all three verbal artifacts of the Arab Muslim inability to let Jews live free of their sub-civilized, totalitarian and socially barbaric culture.

So let’s see: Already mentioned I think was the attempt along the light rail yesterday in Jerusalem by a homicidal Hamite to stab a young female Semite and a Semitic man but it was foiled. An alert policeman shot him in the leg.

And this morning again, an Arab in a car with a knife tried to murder Jewish soldiers at the Gush Etzion intersection and but was shot dead.

Well, that junction is now bristling with security cameras and I am sure the footage will be analyzed and learned from.

It is becoming a sport, really, these Jew-killing escapades, the latest wrinkle in the attempts of mad dog goyim to murder Jews. Like the rise and fall of hemlines, the Arabs here are forever tinkering with technique, the fashion of it. This ramming and knifing combo is an interesting innovation.

Which forces us to use our Yiddisher cups/Jewish heads and today we read of a new invention by the IDF: neck armor. It looks like the collar on a turtleneck sweater that is meant to protect our soldiers assigned to this duty from these stabbers who it is now clear have been taught, or self-taught via the Internet, the proper Jew-killing with knife technique. Doctors tending the victims say that the stabbers know what they are doing. These are not random strikes on the body. They know just where to target the Jewish “devil’s corpus.

And make no mistake: these suicide killers, no different from suicide bombers, look upon their victims as devils or agents of Satan, and nothing could be holier than killing them. That is what Allah wants, and in compensation, the stabber rockets into Muslim

Paradise where just about every vice forbidden a Believer in this life is there. For example, the streams in Muslim paradise do not run with water but wine. And one can drink it and stay drunk all the time, 24-7, as one repeatedly and violently rapes virgins for all eternity.

And let's not forget the other attempts to kill us here yesterday from the north. Two weeks ago, Samir Kuntar the Lebanese Druse was also shipped off to Paradise and ever since Hezbollah, the Party of G-d in southern Lebanon has vowed revenge, as they always do. One never hears of a peace plan from Hezbollah because Hezbollah is opposed to installing peace between Lebanon and Israel. Peace is not on their agenda.

So yesterday, Hezbollah set off some humongous bomb as two IDF D9 armored bulldozers drove by the border. There was some damage to those monster vehicles but not to the soldiers inside, I think, than G-d.

And in immediate response, the IDF fired artillery shells over the line at Hezbollah positions.

Farmers on the Golan remain advised not to enter their orchards along the frontier, but otherwise people in the "Finger of the Galilee" and on the Golan were told to go about their business as usual.

This is our fate. Hamas in the south; Hamas-type suicide freaks in Yesh; Hezbollah in the north.

Actually, I feel kind of grateful with news items like these. (Oh, and let's not forget the murderer last Friday in Tel-Aviv still on the loose, an Arab with citizenship, for a change.) I feel kind of grateful when I consider all this violence and then compare it to what is going on in our neighbors' country. In this light, this aggression against us is evidence of what a peaceful island of civilization we live in. These strikes when compared to what goes on all around us in the bigger picture -- as terrible as they are for the individuals wounded and killed in them -- are pinprick irritants.

Consider daily events in Libya, in Syria, in Iraq, in Yemen. And the Saudis and the Iranians are now on the verge of major violence over events of the past few days. They have been fighting a proxy war with each other in Yemen, backing the different sides, and via their support for the different sides in other countries no less. But now no more proxies. They stand face-to-face snarling at each other, breaking diplomatic relations.

And one major, connecting thread, really a major catalyst for the violence all over the region, can be described or explained in two words: Barak Obama. What this bull in a china shop has done since he took office is shatter what stability existed around here. He and Hillary Clinton triggered the destruction of Gaddafi's state and since he was brought down, the fighting between factions there has never ended, with major gains for the Muslim Brotherhood.

Then next-door in Egypt, Obama, either a conscious villain or ignorant fool, thought it would be a good idea to topple Mubarak and install the Muslim Brotherhood, those perennial antagonists of Egyptian governments since the end of the monarchy in 1952.

As a poorly educated fool, Obama likely thought democracy is what Egypt needs, and never mind that half the people there are illiterate and therefore uneducated and ill-equipped to vote intelligently. But never mind, if they want the Brotherhood, it is their democratic right, this idiot likely thought.

He also taught the entire region, certainly the Arab states, that he was no friend when it came to Iran. He said, for example, that if Assad, protégé of Iran, uses poisonous gas, that's a red line. But when Assad did, Obama turned way and his implicit threat evaporated like water-pipe smoke. Iran did not want Obama to do anything against its client, Assad, and so Obama did not.

In the spring of 2009, when Obama was in office a few months, Iran went to the polls. The mullahs were outvoted so they stole the results. People protested, people were killed, and Obama said nothing.

And why? Because Iran is the only country in the region with smarts enough to build an atomic bomb and delivery systems to menace Israel. They have just tested another long-range rocket, another clear violation of a UN Security Council resolution that which should halt Obama's Iran deal but he, of course, will do nothing.

And the upshot? The anxiety in Saudi Arabia that erupted with the realization that in its confrontation with Iran, the Sunni Islamic homeland versus the eternal Shiite heretics in Iran, Saudi Arabia can no longer count on the U.S. for support, as the U.S. came to Kuwait's rescue in 1991. Saudi Arabia is now on its own, and the result is the current flare up. The beheading of a Shiite leader in Saudi Arabia last weekend humiliated the Iranians, whose yarbos burned down the Saudi Embassy in Teheran.

What a mess. The stock markets opened nervous about the oil supplies out of the Gulf bounded by Iran and Saudi Arabia, and the trail leads to that antisemitic imposter in the Oval Office.

Well, we opened with that lovely little story of the antiJew cancer that affects UN bureaucrats, especially Muslim ones like this guy, as another manifestation of the eternal plague of antiJewitis of the mind, and here is another manifestation of the effects of Islam's menace against Jews.

Shurat HaDin, the law firm here run by the terrific Nitsana Darshan Leitner, who has pioneered attacking terrorists in courts of law, ran a covert experiment on Facebook that proved its bias toward against toward the anti-Jew Arabs and their hostility to Israel. They created two phony pages, one pro-Israel, one pro-Balestinian. Both were posted with messages advertising its propaganda for its own side and against the other, with Facebook shutting down the pro-Israel, anti-Palestinian page while doing nothing to its mirror image.

Shurat Hadin is now suing Facebook for its bias and complaining, inter alia, that Facebook is allowing Islamist radicals to recruit terrorists and plan terror attacks on its pages.

If this is true, and I have no reason to doubt Shurat Hadin, how are we to understand this? Why is this happening?

A few possibilities: the people at the top are unaware of what their lower level staffers are doing online. Or, it is policy from the top. And if so, is this because the company really believes in the cause of the Ancient Ones or because it is frightened of Muslims? Close down a jihadi site and prepare for retaliation. Bombs planted at headquarters. Truck-bombs as powerful as Timothy McVeigh's which blew the whole side of a modern office building off and killed hundreds of people.

For sure, as I note in my book, newspaper correspondents in the Middle East have been threatened by Muslims. The PLO did that in Lebanon in the 1970s and 80s to get the coverage it wanted. Certain journalists had to flee Lebanon after being threatened.

And now, as Judith Bergman on the Gatestone site reported today, a resolution was tabled in the House of Representatives two weeks after the San Bernardino horror and signed by 82 Democrats "condemning violence, bigotry and hateful rhetoric towards Muslims in the United States. The victims of anti-Muslim hate crimes and rhetoric have faced, physical, verbal and emotional abuse because they were Muslim or believed to be Muslim and the House expresses its condolences for the victims of anti-Muslim hate crimes."

And never mind, as Bergman points out, of all hate crimes reported in 2014 in the States, only 16.1 % were anti-Muslim, over 56% were anti-Jew, but of course the House has no resolution protesting that reality.

Bergman sees this as the first step to outlawing criticism of Islam, which has a terrible precedent. How ironic. We are just around the corner from the anniversary of the Charlie Hebdo horror and the chilling truth that Obama refused to join the world in condemning that massacre. And why? Well, at the UN during a previous annual appearance, Obama said he did not want to live in a world that tolerates slandering the Prophet. Of course he refused to participate in that arguably world's greatest-ever political manifestation in Paris because the Charlie Hebdo massacre came about precisely because it slandered the Prophet.

So this is guy is a menace. Today, his imperial edict concerns guns and I really hope there are wise men Washington who care enough about Israel and should be on guard during this villain's last year in office. I think he is perfectly capable of throwing Israel under the bus, to the dogs in the Security Council.

He has already done something equally awful. He has written a check for 150 billion dollars to be given to his protégé Iran and also signed off on their building an atomic bomb.

So I think it is not too soon for the Israel Lobby, what's left of it, to start rallying friends in Congress to draft a resolution declaring that any anti-Israel move by this president in the UN during his last year in office will be disowned by the Congress of the People of the United States of America because this is one scary dude.
