Shalom laYehudim, Shalom laBnai Noach, Shalom laGoyim. It is the evening of the 2nd day, yud-alef beAdar bes, Parashas Tsav, tav-shin-ayin-vav, the evening of the 1st day, Sunday, 20 March 2016, webcasting from the Land of Holiness, island of holiness surrounded on three sides by an ocean of homicidal maniacs.

And it's not just us that they target. I mean, not only are our neighbors forever trying to murder us, it is a drop in the bucket, our blood, compared to their endless fratricide, the killing of one another in tremendous numbers.

In the 1970s, the Lebanese had a so-called civil war between themselves and with the PLO. Between 1975 and 1989, 150,000 Lebanese were killed in that tiny country, killed by fellow Arabs.

In the 1990s, some 200,000 Algerians killed one another and often in gruesome terrorist atrocities. And of course over the last half-decade in Syria, the estimate is now up to 500,000 dead in addition to the millions of homeless refugees.

They periodically kill each as well in Yemen, north vs. south and even within these regions. Twenty-five years ago, I was with a group that paid visits to Yemen to help the Jews and had not only to negotiate with the government in Saana, the capital, but the tribes in the north, with their sheiks who saw themselves independent of Saana.

The Arabs are a tribal people still. The states of Lebanon, Iraq, Syria, Jordan were all created from the outside, not the inside of Arab society, basically imposed on them from above by France and the U.K.

And now two generations later, of course they have come apart in terrible bloodshed. The Middle East has become a coliseum of blood in Syria and Iraq, Syrians fighting Syrians. Sunni Iraqis and Shiite Iraqis are no more united today than they ever were.

And then there is the nightmare of the ISIS monsters with their capturing of women just like Muhammad in the 7th century, raping them, enslaving them, and chopping off heads because that is what it says in their “infallible” Koran. If chopping off heads was good enough and really praiseworthy for the Prophet Muhammad, Peace Be Upon him, then it is good enough for Muslims today.

Islam is the great menace of our time, the successor to crusading Communism and crusading Nazism, all three of them totalitarian systems of hate; haters of freedom. Islam means submission, and all together all three have been haters of Jews -- the Communists, the Nazis and the Muslims.

So let's count our blessings that the current wave of Hamitic violence here is as low as it has been. I mean, over the last two days, only three Jew-killing attempts. We survived them with minor injuries but the attackers did not. In Hevron yesterday, a 17 year-old Ishmael-clone stabbed not too seriously, I think, a soldier in the face, near the Cave of Patriarchs of the Jewish people, but he and other soldiers pushed him off and when he tried to strike again, they shot him dead.

On Friday, the ever-popular Jew-killing ground at the Gush Etzion intersection that has a big traffic circle saw a vehicle with two Arabians inside drive up onto the circle where I think some soldiers were gathered. One Arab jumped from the car with a knife but the soldiers shot him dead.

In the tribal land of Benjamin as well, at the Shaar Binyamin business-industrial zone, two female Ishmaelites were suspected and detained and searched and, whaddaya know, they were carrying two knives.

We should count our blessings with such news reports and especially when compared to the terror bombing in Istanbul yesterday. Three dead Israeli tourists on a “culinary vacation,” meaning non-observant Jews and kashrut meant nothing to them, who were killed by an ISIS suicide bomber. It was not immediately clear if he knew they were Jews.

Not that it matters. ISIS, Al-Qaida, Al-Nusrat, Hamas, Hezbollah, they are all the same. These Muslim groups have multiplied like mushrooms after a rain, the way in the 1970s the PLO terror cells multiplied. And that is because the Arabs remain largely tribal and anarchic. This is their preferred way of fighting, and reasons for it are never lacking.

Turkey is getting hit again and again by brother Muslims, who as a people seem addicted to fratricide.

The explosion yesterday in the central shopping avenue that killed the three Israelis also wounded four other Israelis. Israel dispatched medical teams to Turkey to bring the dead and survivors home for treatment.

But what got my attention today was a far less covered massacre the same day and a much larger one in Sinai at the coastal town of El-Arish not far from the southern boundary of the Gaza Strip. There at a security checkpoint, as the newspapers reported – remember that expression, “security checkpoint” -- according to Reuters, 13 policemen died when a mortar launched by the ISIS cultists landed on them.

And what were they doing at that security checkpoint? By the way, what is a security checkpoint? Well, they are all over the Middle East. All over. Of course, the MSM focuses on the checkpoints in Israel in which Ancient Ones are constantly being humiliated.

Well, I have seen checkpoints all over the Middle East. I saw them thirty years ago in Egypt and went through them. Twenty-five years ago, I was in Yemen, same thing. This is normative behavior in the Middle East. The reality of the Arab world is such that there is much homicidal violence and commonly against the regime, which is never recognized as legitimate in these countries.

In Libya since Gaddafi met his just deserts, the Libyans have been fighting for control of the central government. These are tribesmen. It is the old tribal fighting known throughout Arab history. That anti-Jew fool Thomas L. Friedman of the antiJew New York Times trumpeted the dawning of a new era, the Arab Spring, because he is such an antiJew, he cannot see the Arabs clearly.

The Arabs are tribal and violent and brutal and sadistic. And they have never learned to govern themselves democratically and peacefully. In the West, it is taken for granted that governments change hands peacefully at the ballot box. And when a leader dies unexpectedly in office, there is no squabble over who succeeds him. There are laws governing that.

Versus Araby, where power changes hands commonly via assassination. Sadat was assassinated. Saddam Hussein had to be driven from office and hunted down, then hung by the neck.

This is why the invasion of Europe by Muslims, with the Europeans letting them in, is a sign of Europe’s morbidity. Why are they doing this? One can foresee in the near future a Holland that is dominated by Muslims who democratically vote to install sharia law and join the Islamic Cooperation Conference and become the 57th officially Muslim state.

It is also a sign of morbidity in the States -- and especially among the non-observant Jews – who object to Donald Trump’s desire to keep more Muslims from entering the country. This has angered them and they are protesting Trump’s “Islamophobia.”

Not surprisingly, Trump’s desire to bar Muslims drew the ire of the ADL that called it “deeply offensive.” When the ADL goes to bat for Islam -- this monstrous form of antisemitism -- the ADL ceases to be a Jewish defense organization, as they describe themselves, and more a passel of cowardly narcissists for their inability to defend America from the menace of Islam because that would be politically incorrect. What is “correct” is that all religions are of equal worth and Judaism and Islam are both Abrahamic religions.

You saw maybe how after the massacre in Istanbul yesterday, a female Turkish MP twitted her wish that all the wounded Israelis die too.

For which she was fired from the party, Erdogan’s party, but no doubt, her wish is widespread in her country and culture and among her billion-plus co-religionists.

Now here’s a story that is simultaneously upsetting and heartwarming. The exposure last week on Thursday night on Israeli TV of a new video produced by the voluntary Ad Kahn group of IDF veterans disgusted by the Breaking the Silence slanderers of Israeli soldiers just like them.

This is the same Ad Kahn group that caught an Israeli Jew ratting on Arabs to the PLO who sold houses to Israelis whom the PLO tortured and murdered. Well, last Thursday, Channel 2 showed video of Ad Kahn plants among the Breaking the Silence people as they fished not for information on the alleged brutality of IDF soldiers but operational intelligence useful to such as Hamas and Islamic Jihad in the Gaza zone. Plenty of politicians of all stripes here blurted out words like “treason” and “espionage,” mainstream types.

Significantly too, the Jerusalem Post has yet to run one story about this outrage that has appeared on Israeli TV. It was reported in Yediot and Israel Hayom. This is another major blow to the traitors in Breaking the Silence who masquerade as defenders of innocent Arabs abused by Israeli soldiers for no damn good reason except, one assumes, the Jewish soldiers’ innate sadism.

Justice Mistress Ayelet Shaked used the word “spying” to describe what she saw like everybody else watching that program. Former GSS head Avi Dichter, a middle of the roader, also said that the material looks and sounds like espionage.

Defense Minister Yaalon has ordered an investigation by the IDF. From the videos it appears Breaking the Silence is gathering military information that has nothing to do with any alleged abuse of the Ancient Ones. Nothing at all.

We should not be surprised. Like the BDS haters who claim to working for the good of the Palestinians in the “West Bank “when they really want to see Israel destroyed, G-d forbid, these Breaking the Silence types are also deceivers. They too want Israel destroyed. They are enemies of the State of Israel, and it is hardly the first time radical Leftists have betrayed Israel to the Arabs. One could write a book about them.

And not surprisingly, every Jewish traitor to Israel was a Leftist, people of the same mold as Barack Obama who has been waving the flag of Iran throughout his time in office, when Iran has been, since the demise of the Soviet Union, America's number one enemy.

Iran de facto if not de jure declared war on the United States in 1979 when they overran the US Embassy compound and held 52 American personnel hostage for over a year, and by definition in that period psychology tortured by the very fact of their confinement.

They struck again in 1983 in Beirut by killing more US servicemen in one strike not seen since the war in Viet Nam, over 240 dead.

They bombed US military barracks in Saudi Arabia killing more than dozen; they bombed a US Navy ship in Aden and another 17 died.

And now it turns out that there was enough evidence in a real trial in the Southern District of New York to conclude, as the judge did, that Iran was involved in 9-11 as well. This has been alleged for years, and this may be the first time a US official confirms that truth.

And here was Obama just last week in that Jeffrey Goldberg piece telling the Saudis they must share leadership of the region with Iran.

And let us not forget that within five months of becoming president in 2009, Obama responded to the government of Iran's theft and corruption of the election process that led to mass demonstrations and death, to which Obama turned his back instead of supporting a rebellion against the rule of the lunatic ayatollahs.

Barack Obama is a traitor to the United States for his coddling of the enemy, enemy No. 1. Remember how last summer during the Iran negotiations in Geneva, one respectable report in the MSM said that the US was acting like an attorney for the defense for Iran against the other five powers in the room.

Obama is a traitor to the United States as I think these Leftists in Israel are no less traitors, dissemblers, pretending to care for the victims of brutal Israeli soldiers when what they really want is Israel out of Judea and Samaria, which surely would mean the end of Israel, G-d forbid.

I find it simply amazing that there is anyone left in Israel who still thinks retreat is the way to peace. It is amazing in light of what happened over the last ten years since the last piece of the Gaza Strip was evacuated and handed over to the enemy. Tens of thousands of projectiles fired at us; a series of major military incursions into Gaza. How anyone can think that a similar retreat from Judea and Samaria would end differently is beyond comprehension.

But of course, they are still there, though I think Israel is slowly awakening from the Oslo delirium. Yair Lapid is moving right. Herzog has confessed the two-state nirvana is not attainable for the moment.

Only I, fear, the Jerusalem Post has yet to wake up. In its Friday editions, there are some good commentators but its midweek choice of op-ed opinionators is terrible; one wimpy liberal and leftist after another still dreaming of a kumbaya relationship with the Arabs in Yossi. And of course, that it has not happened is the fault of the Right, of the government.

The Post has not for two days now mentioned this latest scandal of Breaking the Silence being exposed for the spies that they are, and therefore enemies.

In truth, we should not be overly surprised. Every people has its traitors. The famous Cambridge spies in England in the 1930s and recently in the States Aldrich Ames and the Walkers, father and son, and there have been others. Every people has its turncoats and Israel no less. And they always come from the Left.

Last Thursday, the Government Press Office went after TIME Magazine as it did the Guardian recently, and pretty much for the same reason. In reporting on the Knife Intifada, the headlines in the MSM routinely describe Jews killing Ancient Ones, but not the provocation by them, which is frequently an attempt at the maniacal murder of Jews.

Last October 13, in one of the first horrors of the current wave, you may remember, two Arabs with guns boarded an Egged bus in Armon HaNatziv, a Jewish neighborhood in Jerusalem that abuts an Arab one, who murdered three Jews, three men, ages 51, 76 and 78 before being shot dead by the police.

That is, one survived and was arrested; the other was killed. And what was TIME Magazine's headline for that story? "The Desperation Driving Young Palestinians to Violence." All they said was that the murderer was a "graphic designer killed by Israeli security forces after allegedly trying to carry out an attack in Jerusalem."

"Allegedly trying to carry out an attack"? This sentence could convey the idea that maybe the authorities are not quite sure there even had been an attack. He "allegedly tried to carry out an attack?" They don't know? In this formulation, we are not sure if he succeeded and there was an attack. And never mind that three Jewish men were murdered by this beast.

The Government Press Office in Israel tried repeatedly since last October to get TIME to re-write that headline, and apparently, only today, did they do that.

This is what we are up against. Melanie Phillips from London reports that the current wave of attacks is not being reported in London at all.

This is the face of antisemitism in the 21st century. It is the face of Breaking the Silence. It was reported by NGO Monitor that Breaking the Silence received from the New Israel Fund, between 2008 and 2014, $699,310, in round numbers, $700,000 to betray Israel. Money sent by antiJew Jews in the United States who delude themselves into thinking what they are doing is best for Israel. They know best. They live there and know better than we do what is good for us.

No, like all Leftists in our time, they are doing what is best for themselves. Being Left once meant standing for the fantasy of a socialist society in which the means of production would be owned by the people, the government. There would be more economic equality, no more rich and poor. Today being a Leftist means, domestically, being a supporter of sexual deviance and in foreign affairs kowtowing to the enemies of the West; in Obama's and Jeremy Corbin's minds, the "victims" of the West.

And as for Leftists of Jewish extraction in the Diaspora, like the millionaires who sustain the New Israel Fund, they have become a real menace to Israel.

And there is a connection, I think, between them and the ongoing story of the Reform Jews trying to win respect here and these people in the New Israel Fund. They are overlapping camps.

I think the Prime Minister is making a big mistake by thinking he can placate the American Jewish Left, the Reform and Conservative Jews, when I think they are a lost cause. In truth, all these protests about the right to use the mikvaot and to wear tefillin and read the Torah among women at the Wall are nothing but an exercise in their hostility to the Jewish people.

If they were not hostile, they would not be presiding over the disappearance of the Jewish people via marrying out, which they do. Minister of Health Yaakov Litzman, a Haredi, said last Friday that his party, United Torah Judaism, would not sit in a government that recognizes Reform and Conservative Judaism and specifically cited the marriage of Chelsea Clinton and that Conservative Jew. "There was a priest and a Reform rabbi there. This is not Judaism, G-d forbid. This is a forgery of Judaism, and we won't let them take control in the state."

Maybe this is why the mixed multitude was called the mixed multitude for wanting to mix what is Jewish with what is not Jewish in belief and behavior. In every generation, as in the age of the Maccabees, there are Jews who want Jewish culture to be more like the surrounding gentile culture, and here is a perfect example. These intellectually corrupt weddings presided over by a rabbi and a Christian minister or priest, the mixing of the two cultures as of equal worth.

No good. As I've said before, apart from having different beliefs and what are acceptable values, is the intellectual corruption of pretending that Reform Judaism is Judaism.

It is like the Oslo delirium, another product of dejudaized Jews.
