Shalom laYehudim, Shalom laBnai Noach, Shalom laGoyim. It is the evening of the 2nd day, kaf-khes beSivan, Parashas Khukas, tav-shin-ayin-vav, the evening of the 1st day, Sunday, 3 July 2016, webcasting from Israel during, is it Intifada No. 3 now?

Or maybe its Intifada 4.0 because I consider the serial murders of Jews in the 1936-39 period the real first intifada, rebellion against, at that point, the League of Nations, the victorious allies during the First World War who recognized two decades before the Holocaust the rightness of creating a Palestine that did not exist under Muslim domination explicitly to be a Jewish homeland.

In the 1930s, the Arabs murdered Jews here all over the place and “settlements over the Green Line” had nothing to do with it. The invention of the “Palestinians” was meant to cloak the truth that this violence has always been about Arab Muslims resisting the creation of a Jewish state independent of Islam, which is functionally a stab in the heart of Islam. Islam’s self-image is that of successor to the Jews who lost their special covenant with Allah and the Muslims got it. The building of the Golden Dome of the Rock on the very site of the Jewish people’s two temples was to concretize that belief and as proof of its truth. If Allah did not love Muslims more than Jews, then he would not have allowed them to overrun the Temple Mount.

And in these last days this year of Ramadan, Israel has barred Jews from visiting the Temple Mount. There has been violence up there, the physical menace of Muslims, you know, teenage punks who like to throw rocks and bricks, iron bars and bottles at Jews.

So it seems like maybe it is Intifada 4.0 with this latest series of horrors, beginning with the horror of that 17 year-old animal in Kiryat Araba who stabbed a lovely Jewish girl death. And the next day, Friday, before the Holy Sabbath, the murder of HaRav Micki, Rabbi Michael Mark, b"y father of ten children, beloved educator at the Yeshiva in Otniel. A dear friend of mine sent his son to learn in Otniel and it was a wonderful experience studying the holy texts under Rav Micki's avuncular administration.

His wife, the Rebbitzin, came out of the induced coma today she had been put into since she was shot up. Her husband died either from the bullets of the attackers or loss of control that flipped the car. He was pinned completely; she and the children, though wounded, were able to crawl out.

It was another drive-by shooting. We had them 15 years ago when I was almost a victim and a friend was, and the solution then was denying the roads to Arab vehicles.

So following this latest horror, the government huffed and puffed and announced a closure for 700,000 Arabs, which I think makes little sense. Bibi also answered in the classical Zionist language of "building more homes." He ordered up another 42 apartments in Kiryat Arba -- which some say were already on the drawing boards or already approved anyway. Others said today that the alleged blockade of the town Bani Naim where the murder of Hallel-Yaffa came from is non-existent.

In any case, I hate when they do this; that this, in response to these murders, we get back at them by building more homes for Jews. I don't like to think of Jews building homes in Judea as a punishment. It is a right. With all the anti-settlement hatred in Israel and the world about the post-'67 settlements, there has never been a case in which a new community dispossessed Arabs from their homes; in which Jews barged in and cleaned them out, dumped their furniture in the street and made them homeless. The settlements were built on barren hilltops. No Ancient Palestinian was deprived of his home and "ancestral sod."

The prime minister also promised to deduct from the customs duties Israel transfers to these grafters in Ramallah the sum the PA pays terrorists and their families. You have to understand that in their savage universe, a soldier is not necessarily in uniform and his target is not necessarily in uniform either. The 17-year-old wild animal masquerading as a human being who crawled into the open window of that Jewish family home and stabbed Hallel-Yaffa to death was praised by the PA -- the moderate PA -- as a shahid, a martyr. He was shot dead after stabbing her to death but that's okay. He gets to go to heaven, Muslim paradise. He gets to be drunk 24-7 and violently deflower virgins for all eternity.

What to do concretely to clamp down on the current return of Jew-killing as a solemn sport among these savage Arabs...what a brutal people? Brutal and cruel.

What to do with them? Well, that is a tactical question and I trust the army and the police to do what is necessary. During Intifada 3.0, the main road, the one, Rt. 60, where Rav Micki was murdered on Friday, his wife and children cruelly wounded, was closed to Arab traffic for three years and that was a pleasure.

Trouble is, that was during the rule of President Bush Jr. who was sympathetic to Israel. Today, by contrast, the Muslim murderers here have a friend in the Oval Office, and who knows what this bad actor is capable of doing against us so long as he is in office?

With Donald Trump in office, I feel confident, unless he has a nervous breakdown, a President Trump would back Israel wholeheartedly when it comes to peace and quiet in Judea and Samaria.

But what I would really like to see is Israel embark upon a whole new public diplomacy that dumps in the trashcan of history the Palestinian Narrative, the Palestinian National Movement and Israel far more honestly re-brand the violence here as a religious war, a jihad, because that is how the stabbers have always seen it. This is why their vocabulary is exclusively Islamic, starting with the word Fatah.

Israel has to take back the narrative and shine a search light, an arc light, of blinding truth into the eyes of the dragon of lies that is Palestinian Nationalism. Israel has to strip the enemy of this verbal camouflage and tell the truth to the people in England, Paris, Brussels, Cologne, etc. that our enemy and their enemy are one and the same. These are Muslims, ravenous Islam bent overrunning the planet and establishing a one-world caliphate pretty much as Adolf Hitler dreamed of a thousand-year Reich worldwide.

The civilized world, that is, what's left of it, has got to wake up and face the truth that Islam is as much of an ideology hostile to liberty as Soviet Communism was and German National Socialism was, and all of three of these totalitarian tyrannies not coincidentally are consumed with Jew-hatred.

As part of its response to the current Jew-killing frenzy here, the government must shut down, as it can, Naftali Bennett has called for this, the Facebook and Internet Twitter social media. In fact, yesterday Minister of Public Security Gilad Erdan called Facebook a "monster" for allowing itself to be used by these lunatic, Jew-hating Muslim maniacs. And not only that: he said Facebook has hindered Israeli anti-terror investigations. He said Mark Zuckerberg was sabotaging Israeli police work.

If so, then he is a criminal. How can he tolerate homicidal Muslim maniacs using his business to plot Jew-killing operations?

And that, by the way, is the word – "operation" – that they use to describe such as the butchering of Hallel-Yaffa Ariel, b"y. That 17 year-old punk imagined himself a soldier and his derring-do was surprising a little girl in bed in the morning and murdering her. That is an "operation." This is their idea of a heroic soldier in the war against the non-Believers. Warfare is not defeating the enemy on a battlefield. It is ambushing the least defenseless non-combatants in his community.

And that is where Israel continues to go wrong in its framing of the violence here. Israel must tell the world these Arabs are the same people who brought the World Trade Center, the same who slaughtered 130 people in Parisian cafes; the same who machine-gun people and explode themselves in airports. Same people.

The constant perception of the conflict here as a national tussle between two nations with equally valid claims to the same real estate has got to go. They say it is a property dispute between nations, which construction of reality turns a blind eye to the religious dimension of the clash.

The heart of the conflict is the Temple Mount and Israel must re-think how to administer it. I personally think all Jews should be barred. I think at the entrance to the mount through the Mugrabi Gate a big red sign with white letters in several languages should be posted and aimed at the tourists that says, "The Government of Israel assumes no responsibility for visitors who unintentionally or otherwise do something that insults the barbarian Islamists here and get themselves killed."

* * (Musical Interlude) * *

Yes, the Fatah gang, whose leader is Mahmoud Abbas, posted on its Facebook page a picture of the 17 year-old monster who stabbed poor Hallel-Yaffa to death and called him a "martyr" who carried out the "operation" in which a "settler" was killed [that lovely little Jewish girl] and another settler was injured," a security guard who came to the rescue.

And this was a few days after an aide to Mahmoud Abbas, one Sultan Abu al-Einenin, urged all Balestinians to slit the throats of any Israelis they come across. Thus spake this allegedly moderate Fatah gang member.

And I think Israel keeps missing a golden opportunity which is to highlight the ugliness of this antisemitic craziness in these Arabs, these Muslims. Israel must speak the truth that the world denies, that Israel denies. These people were for centuries Arabs and Muslims before they started pretending to be Ancient Palestinians, when there never was such a community.

What bugs yours truly is the obvious Big Lie here of "Palestinian" nationalism that Israel goes along with, which is symptomatic of the tragic flaw of secular Zionism. I find it simply outrageous that any Israeli who knows better goes along with this lie that there is a "Palestinian" nation whose ancient land the Zionists stole. That is not the way things happened in history.

In George Orwell's two greatest novels, 1984 and Animal Farm, he satirized and exposed the truth of the Soviet Union that was supposed to be "the Workers' Paradise" and mocked especially the perversion of language necessary to that tyranny. You know, “War is Peace, Ignorance is Strength, Freedom is Slavery.”

Well, very much in the same category has been the invention of the “Palestinians” about whom the world does not stop worrying and back in their “just desire” for statehood in “their” ancient homeland. It is a vocabulary of lies and catchphrases.

JPost, which has morphed into the yucky liberalism of American Reform Jews, what’s left of them, published on Friday an article on James Zogby, this professional, career anti-Israelite. JPost has also recently given over its op-ed columns to J Street spokesmen. So this was a profile of Zogby just appointed by that Communist of Jewish extraction Bernie Sanders along with the notorious anti-Israelite Cornwell West to draft language for the Democratic Party platform.

I once saw James Zogby years ago on TV complaining that those who call him an antisemite forget that Arabs are Semites too, and I knew, if I had had any doubts, that this was a classic Arab antiJew stealing from the Jews and denying his theft. The term “antisemite” from the day it was invented was a euphemism for Jew-hater. At the time and in history there never had been a Semitic culture, a Semitic community. There also never had been an association to Arabs.

The word’s original place was in the field of linguistics and was used to describe a family of languages, starting with Hebrew. But then in mid-19th century Germany the term was swiped from its moorings in philology and used to camouflage the new, post-religious way of hating Jews. Zogby and others like him have been running this verbal scam that because Arabs are Semites too, they cannot be antisemitic. This is an Orwellian abuse of language in itself.

James Zogby as a spokesman for the Arab world in general and in particular the aggrieved Ancient Ones, began his anti-Israel career in the 1970s when the lie of the “Palestinians” was taking flight. He formed at that time – by the way, his family is Lebanese Maronite Christian – the Palestine Human Rights Campaign which was a complete lie for the purpose of this organization, like all organizations that support the allegedly archaic “Palestinians,” was not for the Human Rights of “Palestinians” to a state, but to deprive the Jews of their human rights to a state.

It was the September 1970 quadruple hijacking by George Habash’s PFLP guys of four airliners to a desert airstrip in Jordan that put the cause of the Ancient Ones on the map. The previous fall of 1969 at the UN saw the first appearance of a resolution containing the expression “the people of Palestine.” And then following year the PFLP’s spectacular the expression “the Palestinian people” made it into a UN resolution.

A search made by yours truly in 1991 of the card catalog at Columbia University’s School of International Affairs showed many books on the “Palestinians” but none published before 1970.

So it was in that period that James Zogby began to make a livelihood for himself by asking for donations from well-heeled Arabs and others to establish his campaign and he has sustained his career ever since by support from antiJews who give him money to be hostile to Israel.

He portrayed himself to JPost's Michael Wilner as no monster but a two-state solution guy, but of course that does not restrain him, as Wilner pointed out, in his advocacy by painting Israel as an oppressing occupier. The Arabs in general are so weak when it comes to empathy for others, and not only for Jews but even among themselves. They are incapable of making the imaginative leap from their own bodies into those of others. They see the Zionist movement not as the desperate aspiration of Jews constantly abused wanting their own little state and a little peace and quiet. What they see are malevolent bullies who want to steal from the Ancient Palestinians and oppress them and abuse them and humiliate them. That is what Zionism is.

This of course is all psychological projection. This is what they want to do to us.

* * (Musical Interlude) * *

Yeah, in pondering the mind of a James Zogby and all the James Zogbys of the world who see in Israel an evil enterprise that revels in persecuting the "real" owners of the land they stole, it struck me that at work is simply human jealousy on the part of the sons of Ishmael toward the sons of Israel that embitters their lies and makes want to embitter our lives.

Among the various levels in the layer cake of thought and emotion that goes into Arab Muslim hatred of Israel, one surely is a common human emotion of anger at being made to feel inferior, which is what Israel's very existence engenders in the Arabs. No matter what policy Israel operates from, no matter its behavior, the very existence of Israel with its lively, thriving, productive, largely happy, comfortable, free society embitters them, for the gap between the two peoples is so wide and so deep. Our very existence and the way we live our lives makes them uncomfortable and feel bad about themselves.

The relations between the sexes in West also bewilders them terribly. The excellent Italian journalist Giulio Meotti who writes for Gatestone has pointed out how common it is for these homicidal Muslim maniacs to attack as they did in a Paris theater, the Bataclan, where males and females mingled in a concert, and restaurants and cafes outside where other men and women socialized together; how a target was the Sarona café in Tel-Aviv; night clubs and restaurants in Bali for scantily clad for tourists, etc.

As yours truly has thought for some time, as Meotti is getting at here. Islam is a sexually perverted culture that leads to, I think, the cruelty, the absence of empathy; to that madman in Orlando himself enslaved to the same addiction as his victims.

What kind of a culture is it that produces such as the monster who murdered Hallel-Yaffa; and the others who were butchered the Fogel family massacre a few years back?

And it is this abyss between civilization and homicidal paganism that Israel needs to shine a light on. Israel needs to stop talking about “Palestinians” and start talking about Islam as the menace here, and not only here, but in Europe and worldwide.

Israel needs to recast the conflict so that what’s left of the Western democracies understands we are all in this together.

The “Palestinian” national movement is nothing but camouflage for Islam. When these animals suddenly pounce in public, they are not shouting “Long Live Palestine!” but “Allahu Akbar!” and it would not hurt Israel to sound the alarm that it is Islam that is today’s Nazism, today’s Communism, a totalitarian system that must be defeated as surely as those two were.

Telling the truth about Islam is an Israeli obligation toward itself and the world. And it can start by mounting a PR campaign highlighting just the posts on the mainstream PA media, which has yet to condemn the latest murders of Jews. Instead, last week, for example, PATV glorified the monster who murdered one woman hiker back in 2010, a Christian missionary, and grievously wounded her friend, a Jewish woman here. A horrifying, grisly tale. The PATV made of the murderer a hero.

Israel has to stop trying to play nice to these antediluvian savages. Israel has to take concrete steps to express its outrage at these people for whom murdering innocent individuals is praised as piety incarnate, an act of holiness.

And so long as these savages continue to ferment in a culture that glorifies such behavior, Israel should do nothing to empower them, to increase their freedom of action, to make peace with them, to expand their zone of liberty because they are cruel, conscienceless, sadistic barbarians.

Last item: You all saw how Jeremy Corbyn still formally heading up the Labor Party in England compared Israel to ISIS and then after the uproar claimed he had no negative intent.

Jew-hatred must be fingered in the public square as a mental disorder, a form of distorted perception that sees in Jews evil people. Like Shakespeare’s Shylock, Marlowe’s Jew of Malta, Dicken’s Fagin, here is another Englishman for him the image of the Jew is a caricature of not only an evil person but a whole community of sinister evildoers bent on harming on others.

Poor man, poor Jeremy. But how interesting that he is a soul mate of a similar politician in the States, identified with the extreme Left like him who has become an important player in what used to be a more centrist, level headed Democratic Party. I am thinking of Bernie Sanders. Bernie Sanders and Jeremy Corbyn are soulmates when it comes to Israel. That Bernie appointed Lames Zogby and Cornwell West and I think that Muslim convert Keith Ellison to the Democratic Party Platform Committee tells me, if I did not know for sure before, that Bernie is a dyed in the wool antiJew just like Jeremy Corbyn.
