Shalom laYehudim, Shalom laBnai Noach, Shalom laGoyim. It is the evening of the 2nd day, kaf-tes beTishrei, Parasha Noah, tav-shin-ayin-zion, the evening of the 1st day, Sunday, 30 October 2016, webcasting from Israel, where the government once again today postponed deciding on what to do about Amona, which is slated to be destroyed in two months' time.

It was at Amona, you remember, in 2006, we saw those horrible scenes of Israel's brutal Yasam police unit clubbing down and wounding some of the thousands of people resisting the destruction, using their bodies only.

There is pressure on Netanyahu to support legislation legalizing the Jews living there now, and while I support annexing all of Judea and Samaria, my fellow settlers have to take into account, I don't think they do, the remaining months of the reign of the Muslim Brotherhood Agent in the Oval Office and his traitorous secretary of state Kerry in Viet Nam days and again dealing with Iran, and an ambadress to the UN, a native of Ireland, one of the most antisemitic peoples in Europe.

The more the exposure of the Clintons and Obama and Loretta Lynch as criminal outlaw violators of the law, exhibiting no respect for the law, opens up, the more my own horror and fear of these people grows. Prime Minister Netanyahu has had eight years of walking on eggshells with Obama, with Hillary & Co., and he still must proceed carefully until Obama is out of power.

Make no mistake. This guy is, I've thought from the beginning, a Louis Farrakhan soulmate who has kept that persona hidden from view. The first time I saw him speak, after hearing what a great speech this unknown-to-me Chicago politician gave at the Democratic Convention 2004, he gave me the creeps and frightened me. I might see through his act but obviously many others were enamored of Barack Hussein Obama, this mixed race politician who represented both white and black races and would lead the nation beyond its past of racism.

I saw a phony speaking bromides that he did not believe. His delivery was that of someone telling people what they wanted to hear without believing a word he was saying. I saw a con man, a snake oil salesman conning the rubes.

And when I learned that he had spent 20 years in the Church of Hatred, Rev. Jeremiah Wright presiding, I was not surprised but confirmed in my initial reading of the guy when I further learned Rev. Wright had once been part of Louis Farrakhan's Black Muslim Nation, Farrakhan the demented Jew-hater.

And then there was Obama's first augural speech in January 2009 when he substituted "America as a Judeo-Christian nation" the expression, "a nation of Christians and Muslims, Jews and Hindus," and then in the next sentence promised a new beginning with Islam, which was weird because nations engage with nations, not religions, and I knew we were in trouble.

He then went on topple America's and Israel's ally in Egypt Mubarak, and later hand over 150 billion dollars to Iran and sign off on their building nuclear weapons. And now in his final days he is likely to want to take a final shot at Israel, so Israel has to be cautious and do nothing reckless until Obama and Kerry and Power are gone from the scene. So I do not support any new legislation for Amona.

On the other hand, Netanyahu could be/should be more aggressive in public diplomacy, but he seems not to be able to break free of the strategy of pretending to support the transformation of Judea and Samaria into the State of Palestine if only the Balestinians, as he calls them, would cooperate and show some good will.

The problem with this tactic has always been success in the short term but in the long, serious, negative side effects, specifically, sustaining the fantasy of a Palestinian people with rights, which is at the root of the BDS and other anti-Israel movements.

We have just been witness to the birth of another of history's anti-Jew lies: the UNESCO decision. Antisemitic writers in the 19th and 20th centuries fantasized a non-religious conspiracy of Jews bent on monopolizing all the world's capital, impoverishing the whole planet and making mankind their slaves.

This led to the pseudo-scientific Nazi delusions of Jewish racial inferiority and the menace they posed by their intermarriage with the purity of German blood.

This all ended, of course as we know, in the gas chambers and ovens of the Holocaust. And then along came in the lunatic 1960s with the first evil buds of Holocaust Denial, the claim that the Jews invented that fantasy and foisted it on the world in order to guilt-monger their way to taking over Balestine.

And now we have a new wrinkle: Jerusalem Denial which has made itself known inside the United Nations Organization as the latest trend in accusing the Jews of lying that they once had a connection to Jerusalem and Haram a-Sharif; as they lie about the Holocaust. Arafat's crackpot statement at Camp David in July 2000 has found its way into United Nations decision-making, albeit in a legally toothless UNESCO resolution.

And I find it fascinating Israel never takes aim at Palestinian Nationalist lies which are as deceitful as Holocaust Denial and Jerusalem Denial. And Jews poisoning the wells, Jewish doctors in Chicago hospitals injecting the AIDS virus into black babies. Some of you may remember that Chicago city councilman Steve Cokely who made that accusation back in 1988.

Likewise, Obama in his inaugural address in 2009 and apology tour acted out his delusion that the United States had acted badly toward the people of Islam -- and never mind saving Kuwait and Saudi Arabia in 1991 from Saddam Hussein's rampaging army of Arab marauders; and never mind defending Muslims in the Balkans in the 1990s from Christians; and never mind making the Arabs filthy rich by developing the oil industry which they, as backward barbarians, were incapable doing themselves. Obama had a paranoid view of the United States as antagonistic to Muslims that likely was fed by the reality of America's unique in the world support for Israel.

So now after eight years, I believe that what he had in mind in 2008 when he said he wanted to fundamentally change America was fundamentally switching sides in the Middle East and supporting the sons of Ham and Ishmael against the sons of Israel.

His active support of the Muslim Brotherhood we have seen in so many ways, with rumors of many Muslim Brothers in the White House, the West Wing and other government agencies. We saw him releasing terrorist chieftains from Guantanamo in order to retrieve a Muslim traitor to America; his refusal to say Islam and terrorism in the same sentence; his responding to the beheading of Americans by bringing up the Crusades; in denying that Ft. Hood and other massacres had anything to do with Islam. This was all evidence that through and through he is a Muslim and therefore a Jew-hater because Islam, even more than Christianity, is a form of antisemitism. So Israel has to proceed cautiously over the coming months.

But, it still could begin to push back against the tsunami of antiJew beliefs that are the core of antiJew thinking in our time, a generation infused with its own mutated manifestation of Jew-hatred. No more crackpot racial theories; no more deicide charge. Today it is the theft of Palestine from the "Palestinians" and Israel's mistreatment of them on a daily basis.

JPost today reported that UN Watch, run by the eloquent Hillel Neuer, has demanded that the UN Special Investigator into Israeli crimes against Balestinians be suspended because he lied when applying for the job. This Canadian lawyer Michael

Lynk was linked to many anti-Israel/anti-Jew organizations before he took the job as “Special Rapporteur on the Palestinian Territories.” He held a press conference on Friday as he handed over a 26-page report, which included Israel’s treatment of Btselem and in general “intimidating human rights defenders.”

So once again another one-sided antiJew cell claiming to be for human rights has issued a report, but curiously only the human rights of Arabs, not Jews, are included. Lynk accused Israel of attempting to “delegitimize the great work of human rights defenders.” And of course in the press conference he raised the Israeli criticism of Haggai El-Ad head of Btselem who in mid-month was Jew-bashing in the UN Security Council.

Lynk said Israel’s settlement building has “obstructed the Palestinian right to self-determination by building over the pre-1967 lines in east Jerusalem and the West Bank.”

And there you have it. This is a version of the Muslim creed, “There is no god but Allah and Muhammad is his messenger.” This is like, perhaps the Apostle’s Creed, a crystalline version of the core of the hatred of Israel in our time. “Israeli settlements are obstructing the Palestinian right to self-determination by building over the 1967 lines in east Jerusalem and the West Bank.”

There are five major antisemitic lies in this language, and we’ll dig them out after some music.

* * (Musical Interlude) * *

So here is this UN flunky, this Canadian, so-called human rights lawyer Michael Lynk, releasing a 26-page indictment of the Jews for their crimes against their victims, the Balestinians, and at the heart of his press conference was this, basically, statement of faith in our generation, the reigning antiJew creed: “Israel’s settlement building has obstructed the Palestinian right to self-determination by building over the pre-1967 lines in east Jerusalem and the West Bank.”

First of all, his use of the word “Palestinian” is the essential lie when there is nothing Palestinian about the Arabs he has in mind. In his delusional antiJew mind, he believes in a “Palestinian” people with the right to independence, and where? In what he calls Palestine, and never mind that the Muslims never called it that. The Muslims for a Biblical generation of 40 years after the Balfour Declaration denied there was such a country as Palestine; and never mind that Palestine was brought to life as a jurisdiction by the League of Nations explicitly for the purpose of creating a homeland for the Jews in at least some of their historic ancient homeland.

Palestine, in sum, was explicitly created for the Jews, yet here is this contemporary Jew-hater insisting the Palestine brought to life was for the “Palestinians,” a people unheard of in 1922. Those who harbor this false history in their minds are functionally delusional about the Jews in ways not unlike Christian hatred of Jews for deicide, and Nazi hatred of Jews for their nefarious plan to exterminate all Germans, etc.

In sum, there are no Palestinians and certainly no such nation with the right to independence in the Palestine brought to life by the League of Nations for the Jews.

And as for the crime in his mind of Israel building beyond the pre-1967 lines, why? The line in Judea and Samaria marking off Jordanian territory were explicitly described in the ceasefire agreement in 1949 between Jordan and Israel as nothing but a ceasefire line and not a political boundary.

Then for two decades to come, Jordan became the launching pad for hundreds of terror murderers who every time they crossed the Green Line violated it. And then in 1967 Jordan tried again to destroy Israel completely in league with other Arab countries, raining artillery down on Jewish Jerusalem, so by their own acts, the Arabs exhibited no respect whatsoever for the Green Line, which then freed Israel from any obligation to respect it too. It has been forgotten that the Mandate called for the amputation of eastern Palestine as it was called, which then left Palestine west of the Jordan to the Jews. The legal paperwork makes plain that Judea and Samaria is Jewish land, so it is the Arab settlements on this real estate that are illegal and unsanctioned.

But, Israel never makes this case in this way. Israel never claims its rights. I worry about Israel taking concrete, material steps that might provoke the Muslim Brotherhood Agent in the Oval Office, but that restriction should not apply to words, to self-defense, to public diplomacy, calling our mortal enemies liars.

Look at what is going on in the United States of Liars. Obama, Hillary, Lynch, Lerner of the IRS, one after the other, liars, bald-faced liars who show no respect for the laws of the United States, no respect for the truth. Hillary the Liar who lied to the families of the four men who died because of her in Benghazi. I am waiting for Donald Trump to tell voters that regardless of policy differences between him and her over foreign policy or domestic policy, the issue is not political philosophy but the terrible reality that she and Obama and Huma Abedin are nothing less than major criminals who belong in prison.

The great Andrew McCarthy today in National Review says Hillary turned the State Department into a racket, she and her husband. Theirs are crimes under the RICO Act of 1970, the Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations Act. Imagine: they turned the State Department into a scam, a racket allowing them to pocket hundreds of millions of dollars.

But most of all, these two people, Hill and Bill, have been exposed as sexual predators. He of course is the principle culprit but then she has been his accomplice after the fact. They are team of sexual predators on women, while she pretends to be a defender of women.

The irony here makes me dizzy. Here is Hillary Rodham, the apotheosis of the liberated woman of 1969 when she graduated valedictorian at Wellesley College in the heyday of Women's Lib, and to this day she presents herself as a fighter for women's rights, who has said every woman who claims she was raped should be believed. But now we know she turned out to be a vicious defender of her rapist husband who threatened, terrified and embittered many of his victims.

Could there be a film script more unbelievable than one about a woman who on the surface is a fighter for women's rights but underneath a predator against women?

I imagine that many of you are as distressed as I am by the current mess in the States. I am truly fearful that this destructive woman will win the presidency, she who is, in my judgment, lacking all the merits of a leader of the nation. What great successes in her life has she had besides being a good student in college and law school? She was a senator for six years and has virtually no accomplishments to her credit in that job. As secretary of state, she did not know what she was doing in the Middle East and with the Russians and seems to be responsible for the death of those four security men in Benghazi.

And that is just the normal deficits apart from the truth that she has no sense of right and wrong and has operated as a racketeer, whose handling of secret communications would send her, were she someone else, to prison for years. The thought of this woman, this criminal, this sexual predator, this liar, becoming president of the United States is a nightmare.

Yes, Israel, that is, the prime minister and ruling class, have yet to wake up to the reality that they are their own worst enemies by never going up against the current batch of antiJew fantasies related to the central delusion of "Palestinians" with rights to our ancient holy land.

Last evening, the head of Btselem, Haggai El-Ad, was on Israel's version of Meet the Press and declared, "I am not anti-Israel. I am anti-occupation."

This sounds like Peter Beinart who claims that being anti-Zionist is not antisemitic.

Here is this Haggai El-Ad who said his appearance before the Security Council was against the occupation, not against the state, and he can get away with this because official Israel has never gone to war with the idea that there is an occupation. It is another antisemitic lie added to the mountain of lies told about Jews over not centuries but millennia.

El-Ad is also fooling himself, as he tries to fool others, if he thinks that he is not against the state by opposing just what he calls the occupation. This is illogical nonsense. What wrecks his claim is that the policy of the government, of every Israeli government since 1967 including those of Rabin and Peres, never agreed to a full-fledged removal of the Jewish presence. And no less, every government was elected democratically as an expression of the will of the people that have never demanded a full retreat.

The Oslo delirium brought us the retreat from much of Judea and Samaria, starting in 1994, but that ended in 2002, as an experiment that failed miserably and bloodily. And ever since, every government elected democratically has maintained Israel's geographic hold of Judea and Samaria, so that opposition to what he calls the occupation expresses his opposition to the will of the people.

Haggai El-Ad claims to care about the state but obviously does not respect the people in the state and their democratically expressed will that keeps returning Netanyahu to power. He most certainly is against the state by being against the will of the people.

Netanyahu is not Mussolini, he is not Saddam Hussein. He is the leader of a people that looks upon surrendering Judea and Samaria as madness, based on the experience of the Oslo delirium and surrendering Gaza. If the retreat from Gaza had any salutary effects, it was this: Israelis learned the lesson that instead of retreat buying friendship, it only buys more aggression.

Overall, there is something just defective in Leftists like Haggai El-Ad who in his case has crossed the line as a traitor by adopting the propaganda of the enemy. On TV yesterday, he said, "The animosity toward Israel at the UN was toward Israel's occupation of the West Bank captured in the 1967 Six-Day War that the Palestinians claim for their own future state and not against the country itself."

El-Ad is 47 years old. He was born two years after the Six-Day War and shows every evidence of having no knowledge of life here before he was born. He thinks the animosity to Israel in the world is directed only at the occupation; if so, he is an historical ignoramus, even an historical idiot. Israel occupies Judea and Samaria today precisely because before 1967 the animosity was just as intense as it is today. As mentioned last webcast, I remember the evening TV news footage in June '67 of millions of Arabians shrieking in mass demonstrations in Arab capitals, "Slaughter the Jews" and "Finish Hitler's work," when not one Israeli, not one Israeli settlement existed in Judea and Samaria. His narcissistic worldview denies life before he was born. The world and hatred of Jews and Israel existed before 1967, so a case can be made that the animosity he speaks of today has absolutely nothing to do with Israel's so-called "occupation," as he calls it, of Judea and Samaria.

What this poor devil has done is swallow whole the mendacious propaganda of the enemy, when there is ample evidence this propaganda is a lie. The history of the violence here over the last century is evidence of that. I doubt this poor devil has any awareness of the pogroms of the 1920s and intifada of the 1930s when the Arabs here were adamant that there was no such country as Palestine and that creating one was a crime against the Arabs and Islam.

Last item, a little one that makes yours truly smile. It seems that the upcoming 21st anniversary of the assassination of Yitzhak Rabin may not receive a demonstration in Rabin Square in Tel-Aviv this year, the annual evening of hate for national religious Jews, us settlers. It seems that the organizations in past years that organized and funded the evening are quiescent this year. So there may not be a gathering whatsoever.

This makes sense. That is the future. As the Oslo generation of Israeli in denial about the Arabs and the Muslims shuffles off this mortal coil, so they will forget Yitzhak Rabin.

So that's it for this evening. Be back on Thursday, G-d willing Leila tov me Eretz Yisrael.
